"A world so bright, but born to grace
It's own half-organized, half-minded race."

It'll be plenty of time, Mr. Cummins, for Mr. Coolidge to know whether he wants another cup of coffee when he has finished breakfast.

In the absence of Frank Stearns the Paul Smiths reporters can't find anybody to interview on the third-term issue.

With the Nats dropping two points on the Bourse we Washington fans may as well begin looking at the pennant situation frankly.

The situation in Cuba is going to be much more pretty soon—Senator King's going down there.

A couple of Yankee globe-trotters cut 1,094 days and 10 hours off the record of the Magellan expedition. We move forward!

Lieut. Comdr. Byrd goes home to Winchester and is acclaimed as the biggest pippin ever produced in the Shenandoah valley.

Capt. Larsen, Amundsen's right-hand man, boldly announces that Admiral Peary never reached the north pole, and we're read the testimony before the House naval affairs committee, too.

While on this cool and pleasant subject it might be added that Maj. Gen. Noble arrives in New York with the only dog that was ever at the Boreal Center, and if old Doc Cook hadn't absent-mindedly eaten it one day, we might now be proudly exhibiting in the museum the only gumdrop that was ever there.

The feat of a St. Louis cashier in supporting two wives and the old folks on $30 a week, with only a $4,000 shortage, stamps him at once as Caillaux's only rival as a financial genius.

Pussyfoot Johnson advocates chloroforming judges in Volstead cases, but we thought the prohibitionists claimed most of 'em are already asleep.

Judging by the dispatches from the late naval munitions dump that Texan Bill Sterrett used to tell about, who would "charge Hell with a bucket of water" must have been a marine.

The Sultan of Morocco couldn't have received a more tumultuous welcome from the Parisian proletarians if he had been Bill Borah himself.

American tourists arriving in London in the midst of a terrible heat wave are beginning to fear there might be something in that prediction that this was to be the "year without a summer."

A party of 500 is about to leave Iowa on a Kiwanis club trip to Europe, and it is expected that by next October the economic situation in the corn belt will be even more acute.

Dr. Fowler issues a timely vacation warning against one of the most cherished of our institutions—"The old oaken bucket, the germ-covered bucket, The insatiable bucket, which hung in the well."

With 49 Georgia banks closing their doors, and Florida all but up by reports that Northern banks won't cash her checks, it looks as though the Western farm radicals might have a lot of recruits in the onslaught on the Treasury next session.

The People's Legislative Service advises President Coolidge to get rid of Commissioner Fenning at once in the Manly way.

A few more gun battles between the cops and bandits in Broadway and the moving picture people will be flocking into New York to do some "Wild East" scenarios.

Justice, handcuffed and helpless between Prohibition and Lawlessness—Can this frightful picture painted before the American Bar Association be true, and what are we going to do about it?

White Pine camp moralizes upon the sad psychological effect of a good licking upon the temperamental Mr. Cummins. As Pope puts it, "Ask men's opinions: Scots now shall tell."

How trade increases, and the world goes well; Strike off his pension, by the setting sun, And Britain, if not Europe, is undone."

BULLETS WOUND 7 IN BROADWAY FIGHT; 3 WOMEN ARE HIT

Police and Holdup Man Exchange Shots in Theater Crowd.

SCORE OF GIRLS FAINT OR GROW HYSTERICAL

Gunman Attempts to Rob Restaurant, but Is Chased by the Diners.

New York, July 14 (By A. P.).—For the second time in 36 hours a gun battle was fought along crowded thoroughfares tonight. Seven persons, three of them women, were wounded by bullets when police battled a holdup man on Broadway tonight as thousands of persons were going to theaters.

Four men were shot down at the peak of the rush hour near the old Madison Square Garden yesterday afternoon when gangsters attempted to free prisoners being taken to jail by detectives.

Glen Miller, 35, of Buffalo, was captured after a gun fight in the "Roaring Forties" tonight, in which he fired a dozen shots at policemen and was wounded four times.

Taxi Used as Weapon.

Miller had attempted to hold up the patrons of a restaurant on Eighth avenue near Fifty-first street. Instead of obeying his command of "hands up," men in the restaurant "rushed" him. He fled, pursued by his intended victims, who enlisted traffic policemen in the chase.

A taxi driver attempted to run him down as he crossed Broadway. The cab smashed across the curb on to the sidewalk, scattering scores of men and women.

Miller took refuge in a store entrance and opened fire with a large caliber automatic.

The police returned the fire from several directions, and the whole district was thrown into panic by the screams of the wounded and the crash of shattered plate glass windows. After five minutes Miller fell, too weak to continue firing.

All of the wounded were taken to hospitals. Ambulance surgeons attended a score of women who fainted or became hysterical.

Miller's Hurts Critical.

Miller was said to be in a critical condition.

Phillip Argus, of Bayonne, N. J., was shot in the leg, his daughter Edith, 18, was wounded in the arm, Stephanie Stephenson was shot through the shoulder, Bella Susal received a facial wound and Louis Stern and Waldine Zadig were wounded in the arm and leg.

The victims of yesterday's fray, Detectives Hammill and Hoffman, of the fence guard, and two of the four prisoners were taken to jail after a raid on an alleged silk thieves' rendezvous, were recovering in hospitals today. Their assailants escaped.

Two Quakes Recorded By Seismograph Here

(By the Associated Press.)

A "very pronounced" earthquake, approximately 2,500 miles from Washington, was recorded yesterday on the Georgetown university seismograph. Director Tondorf said the quake occurred between 5:37 and 6:45 p. m., reaching its maximum intensity between 5:54 and 5:56 p. m.

The seismograph also recorded a quake between noon and 2 p. m., Director Tondorf estimating its occurrence to have been in the region of the Mediterranean.

Sheer Pluck of Marines Averts New Explosions

Quantico Contingent Runs Hose Along T. N. T. Buildings to Put Out Fire; Battle Blaze So Close That Shoes Are Burned.

Dover, N. J., July 14 (By A. P.).

The sheer courage of 100 picked marines under Capt. A. T. Lewis today averted another possible wave of explosions at the navy's devastated arsenal at Lake Denmark.

When fire was discovered in a wrecked storehouse in the northern section of the arsenal waste lands, near buildings filled with high explosives, the marines rushed in and ran a line of hose from a small lake a quarter of a mile away.

Surrounded by tons of explosives, the "Devil Dogs" succeeded in extinguishing the flames before they could spread.

The marines are from the Fifth regiment, brought here from Quantico, and each was selected for his experience in some line of salvage or rescue work.

Even while they were engaged in extinguishing the fire an explosion was heard in a section of the arsenal further north. Capt. Lewis pronounced it that of a 16-inch shell.

The marines were forced to clear a stretch of road and to tear down a wrecked and interlocked iron gate in order to bring up a pumping engine.

As an example of the spirit of his men, Capt. Lewis told of one who battled with the fire at such close quarters that the sole of his shoe was burned through.

One of the storehouses close to the burning storehouse, No. 5, was filled for the most part with 16-inch shells. Others nearby contained shells ranging in size from 5 to 16 inches.

Maj. Gen. Lejeune, commander of the marine corps, arrived at the scene today. He paid the highest tribute both to the marines who lost their lives and to those who now are in charge of the rescue and salvage work.

He paid high tribute to Capt. Clarke, of the marine corps, listed as missing, but whose body, it is feared, may never be recovered or recognized. "He was a splendid officer," said the commandant.

While Gen. Lejeune was making his inspection a civilian employe, who had worked for Capt. Clarke, appeared with an armful of medals.

11 DEAD IN HOTEL FIRE; 18 REPORTED MISSING

All Bodies Taken From Ruins of Catskill Inn Still Are Unidentified.

DEATH TOLL MAY RISE

Tannersville, N. Y., July 14 (By A. P.).—At least eleven persons lost their lives in the fire which early today destroyed Twilight inn in the Catskill mountains.

Eleven bodies, charred beyond recognition, and not yet identified, lay tonight in a barn short distance from the site of the inn.

Eighteen guests and employes of the hotel were unaccounted for tonight, and those in charge of the rescue work feared that many were killed. Others, they believed, hurriedly left the village after the fire and failed to announce their departure, so that until those have been heard from a complete check of the tragedy toll can not be made.

Neither the cause nor the exact time at which the fire started had been determined tonight.

The flames worked upward through the building with such rapidity that dangerous leaps from windows were the only alternative to death. When darkness fell on the ruins tonight, villagers were certain that at least two or three bodies remained undiscovered. Ten tons of burning coal in what was the cellar of the hotel.

The actual slaying of young Maurer was characterized by Judge Gemmill as "the most cowardly and cruel murder since I have been on the bench."

$30 CASHIER HAD TWO FAMILIES, SAY POLICE

Both Go Away With Him as Alleged $4,000 Shortage Is Discovered.

St. Louis, July 14 (By A. P.).—Police investigating the disappearance of G. Edward Avery, $30-a-week cashier of a local manufacturing concern, whose accounts were found to be $4,000 short, discovered today, they said, that the man had been maintaining two sumptuously furnished residences in which he supported families.

At one residence lived Mrs. Maude Avery and their 6-year-old son. At the other was Mrs. Gertrude Stroud Avery and their 3-month-old son.

When the man disappeared yesterday, the police said they learned, he was accompanied by the two women and children, as well as the father of one woman and the mother of another. The houses were sold by Avery several weeks ago.

LIFE TERM IN PRISON IS GIVEN ROBERT SCOTT

Judge Decides He Was Under Influence of Brother Who Is Facing Gallows.

DENIES FIRING THE SHOT

Chicago, July 14 (By A. P.).—Consideration of Robert B. Scott's plea of guilty and the expressed belief that he was without the instinct to murder and was dominated by his older brother, Russell T. Scott, led Judge William N. Gemmill tonight to sentence him to life imprisonment.

Russell Scott is under sentence to be hanged October 15 next for the murder of Joseph Maurer, drug clerk, shot to death when the Scott brothers robbed the City Hall pharmacy in downtown Chicago the night of April 2, 1924.

"Russell Scott took the leadership throughout," said Judge Gemmill preliminary to imposing sentence. "He used threatening language. There was nothing of the kind shown so far as Robert was concerned. There is no longer any question or doubt that Russell fired the fatal shot. There is no question about both being guilty of murder, but they are not evenly guilty."

"Robert Scott was not the leader. He was seven years younger than Russell; had been in the employ of his brother."

"It seems to be true he did not intend to kill."

The actual slaying of young Maurer was characterized by Judge Gemmill as "the most cowardly and cruel murder since I have been on the bench."

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

Oslo, July 14.—Capt. Riser Larsen, right-hand man of Capt. Roald Amundsen, made a sensational speech today, declaring that Capt. Peary never reached the north pole. Capt. Amundsen always has said that Capt. Peary reached the pole in 1909, but Capt. Larsen declares that the Norwegian flag was the first placed on the north and south poles.

Capt. Larsen continued, asserting that Lieut. Comdr. Richard Byrd dropped no American flag when he circled over the pole, because he forgot to take a flag with him.

COOLIDGE IGNORES GLOOMY FORECASTS OF POLITICAL FATE

Silent on Cummins' View; Is Said to Discount Words of Losers

WET STRENGTH RATED ABOVE FARM UNREST

Observers Here See No Basis for Predicting He Will Not Run Again.

Special to The Washington Post.

Paul Smiths, N. Y., July 14.—President Coolidge today evinced no interest in the gloomy prognostications of Senator Cummins (Republican), Iowa, respecting the political future of the President and of the Republican party.

The senator's view that the President will be deterred from being a candidate for another term of unpropitious political prospects and that the Republican party, split by insurgency in the middle Western agricultural States, will go down to defeat before a united Democratic party was brought to the attention of Mr. Coolidge at White Pine camp. He had no comment to make.

Sees No Split Danger.

The President's reaction to such forebodings is well understood by those who have been closely associated with him for years and have studied his mental processes.

In the first place the President habitually discounts the opinions of defeated candidates for office. He has noted that they always view with alarm the future of the party, of the nation and of mankind. The view of officials here is that Mr. Cummins is taking his defeat entirely too hard.

Secondly, there is reason to believe that the President is not greatly impressed by predictions of a party split on the subject of agricultural legislation. If his views are reflected correctly by those in closest contact with him, he regards such prophecies as largely the result of resentment on the part of leaders of the corn-belt lobby at their failure to put over the Haugen bill.

It is pointed out that George N. Peek, of Illinois, head of the corn-belt lobby, repeatedly asserted that if the Haugen bill were not passed the farmers would head a third party movement.

Heard Threats Before.

The administration has heard these threats before, notably in 1924, when the rejection of the McNary-Haugen bill by the President was going to cost him the support of the middle west, according to the advocates of that measure. But the predicted insurgency did not materialize. Mr. Coolidge carrying the corn and wheat belts solidly.

NEARLY WEEK CUT BY GLOBE CIRCLERS FROM OLD RECORD

Wells and Evans Reach Starting Point in 28 Days 14½ Hours.

DEFECTS IN PLANES CAUSE THEM DELAYS

Travelers Allow Selves but Three Hours Sleep From Seattle to New York.

New York, July 14 (By A. P.).

Airplanes, ocean liners, express trains and racing automobiles have outdone Jules Verne's wildest dream of speedy world girdling. With their aid two Americans circled the globe in one-third of Verne's hero's time, and lopped a week from the actual record made a little over a decade ago.

Linton O. Wells and Edward S. Evans roared into New York in a racing car this afternoon and alighted at the Pulitzer building exactly 28 days 14½ hours after they departed on a tugboat to catch the liner Aquitania down the bay en route to Europe. In the interim they had crossed France, Germany, Russia, Siberia, China, Japan and the United States. Eight thousand of the twenty thousand one hundred miles traversed were by airplane, with eleven stops, and not one accident.

Lose Several Hours.

The world girdlers passed last night at Rantoul, Ill., losing a number of hours toward their record because the planes in which they had come from Seattle, Wash., were not equipped for night flying. They allowed themselves only three hours' sleep between Seattle and New York, jumping from the pits of their planes to the seats of waiting racing cars at Mitchell field for the last dash of the trip.

The previous world-girdling record was made in 1913 by John Henry Mears, who bettered Jules Verne's fiction estimate of "around the world in 80 days" by performing the feat in 35 days 21 hours and 35 minutes.

Mitchell Field, N. Y., July 14 (By A. P.).—Edward S. Evans and Linton O. Wells arrived by airplane at 3 p. m., daylight time, today and speeded for New York by automobile to complete their trip around the world for a new "globe trotting" record.

The last lap of their trip was from Rantoul, Ill., which they left at 3:55 a. m., central standard time, today. They left New York on June 16 at 1:30 a. m., hoping to travel around the earth in 28 days. They missed their mark by a number of hours, but smashed the 35-day record of John Henry Mears, made thirteen years ago.

From the Pulitzer building in New York the two were hurried to the Battery by automobile and were taken aboard a coast guard cutter, which overhauled the Aquitania, then steaming out to sea.

49 GEORGIA BANKS CLOSE; 1 BIG TRUST COMPANY

Trouble Traced to Florida Failures, Involving Chain of Institutions.

SERIOUS CRISIS IS DENIED

Atlanta, Ga., July 14 (By A. P.).

Forty-eight Georgia banks and the Bankers Trust Co. of Atlanta, operating company for 120 banks in the State, have closed their doors since Monday morning, the State department of banks announced tonight.

Total capitalization of the banks was more than $1,000,000, and total resources more than $10,439,120. Numerous banks were capitalized as low as $15,000 and ranged upward to $500,000 for the Georgia State Bank. The liabilities ranged from $39,275.58 upward to $4,471,363.

The closing largely was attributed to the appointment of a receiver for the Bankers Trust Co. By a temporary injunction, officers of the company were restrained from altering in any way the status of the 120 banks in the chain. Under the order issued by Judge G. H. Howard, in Fulton superior court, the affairs of the Bankers Trust Co. were turned over to the receivers.

The banks reported to the State banking department as having closed today were:

Ball Ground Bank, Bank of Lexington, Bank of Plainville, Bank of Powder Springs, Bank of Roopville, Comer Bank, Madison County Bank, Colbert Bank, Bank of Hamilton, Farmers and Merchants Bank, Chipley, Bank of Hiram, State Bank, Cochran, Bank of Arnoldville, Bank of Hazelhurst, Richland State Bank, Bank of Alapaha, Temple Banking Co., City Commercial Bank, Woodbury, Bank of Warm Springs, Twigg County Bank, Jeffersonville, Bank of Stapleton, Bartow County Bank, Kingston, and the Georgia State Bank, which has executive offices in Atlanta and branch banking houses in the following Georgia towns: Bartley, Bowdon, Bronwood, Chatsworth, Cordele, Cumming, Douglas, Douglasville, Dublin, Greensboro, Hawkinsville, Mansfield, Mayville, Middleville, Montezuma, Ocala, Omega, Vidalia and Winder.

TROUBLE BREWING IN CUBA AS RESULT OF SENATE INQUIRY

Investigation of Claims by Americans Rousing Anti-U. S. Feeling.

KING PLANNING TRIP TO HAVANA FOR FACTS

Kellogg, Through Diplomacy, Trying to Procure Action for Claimants.

By ALBERT W. FOX.

Unwelcome signs of trouble in Cuba are appearing on the horizon coincident with evidences of anti-American feeling, resulting from the passage of the Senate resolution authorizing an investigation of claims of American citizens against the Cuban government. Despite the confidence which the State Department here has shown in the administration of President Machado, and despite evidences of a sincere desire on the part of Cuba to live up to its international obligations, there now appears to be reason to fear that Uncle Sam may have another edition of the Cuban problem on his hands before the summer is over.

The question of the American claims alone would not suffice, under ordinary circumstances, to disturb the cordial relations between the two governments, for the United States government is not a bill-collecting agency for any one, and it is recognized that American investors in foreign securities take a certain percentage of chances.

Grave Internal Difficulties.

But the fact that the Senate has elected to make these claims a subject of investigation, together with the unusual character of some of the claims, have stressed the importance of this feature at a time when the Cuban government has internal difficulties of the gravest character to meet and overcome. As a result of the Senate's action, the politicians and the press of Havana are aroused, the charges and counter charges of subsidized press and suppression of the news and graft and corruption again are rampant and there is even speculation as to whether President Machado's regime will be able to weather the storm brewing against it. And, worst of all, efforts which Secretary of State Kellogg and American Ambassador Crowder unquestionably will make to compose matters, without weakening the chances of American claimants, will be offset, at least partially, by the Senate's intervention.

Strictly speaking, the Senate has not ordered an investigation into Cuba's affairs. But a subcommittee of the Senate foreign relations committee, composed of Senators Borah, Hiram Johnson and Swanson, has been appointed to hear such evidence as Senator King, author of the investigating resolution, can bring before it. The subcommittee will then decide whether the facts warrant an investigation by the subcommittee.

King Will Go to Cuba.

But, meanwhile, an investigation by Senator King and others whom he may name has been authorized and it is understood that Mr. King contemplates a personal inspection trip to Cuba in September. Due to an oversight in connection with the resolution, no funds are available, but the effect of the Senate's action on public opinion in Cuba is as pronounced as if the entire membership of the foreign relations committee were planning to journey to Havana next week and subpoena the books and papers of Cuban officials.

Two of the American claimants, Alfred Betancourt and Walter Fletcher Smith, left here last night for Havana, after giving facts to Senator King. The evidence provided by the American claimants has undoubtedly impressed the Senate foreign relations committee. Unless Cuban officials can offset its effect, it is probable that the subcommittee will call upon the State Department for action or for an explanation as to why action is not taken.

Secretary Kellogg has been dealing with the cases through diplomatic channels and addressed a note to the Cuban government relative to one of the claims last August. But the Cuban government delayed its reply until March and since then there have been obstacles to progress.

B. M. MANLY WIRES COOLIDGE AT CAMP TO OUST FENNING

Says It Is Incredible That the President Should Permit Him to Resign.

HEADLEY BEING BOOMED FOR COMMISSIONERSHIP

Friends in Southwest Hold Demotion of Inspector Led to Exposure.

Summary dismissal of Commissioner Fenning and prosecution of him by the Department of Justice for his "illegal acts" were demanded in a telegram sent to President Coolidge last night by Basil M. Manly, director of the People's Legislative Service.

Only such action as this, the telegram declared, can do justice to the insane veterans and "remove this blot from your administration."

The telegram, which was sent to the President at his White Pine camp in the Adirondacks, follows: "Washington newspapers report that you are negotiating through Samuel J. Prescott and Edward F. Colladay, local Republican bosses, for resignation of Commissioner Frederick A. Fenning. This is incredible. To solicit or accept Fenning's voluntary resignation is to condone his exploitation of insane war veterans for private profit.

Quotes House Committee.

"The report of the House judiciary committee declared: 'The practice extending over a period of 23 years, whereby Mr. Fenning was able to become the committee of hundreds of insane veterans, many of them veterans of wars to whom the government was making liberal allowances, and from which allowances Mr. Fenning was able to collect commissions, which during the high tide of his committee amounted to approximately $20,000 per year, is a practice which can not be too severely criticized or condemned.'

"The judiciary committee further declared: 'The practice which Mr. Fenning followed of acting as agent for a bonding and surety company, writing his own bond as committee and charging the estate of his ward from the bonding company a commission upon his bond or surety, is illegal and contrary to law.'

"Minority views were far more scathing in condemnation of Fenning's practice while holding public office. He was saved from impeachment only by a technicality. Summary dismissal and prosecution by the Department of Justice for his illegal acts alone can do justice to insane veterans, and remove this blot from your administration."

Laying Situation Before Him.

"Have waited patiently for your voluntary action. Now take this means of laying situation squarely before you and American people."

The Peoples Legislative Service is described as a voluntary organization of American citizens.

Capt. Albert J. Headley, of the Fourth police precinct, is being boomed for Commissioner Fenning's job by his friends and admirers in the southwest section of the city. These friends assert that inasmuch as Capt. Headley was demoted from an inspectorship by Commissioner Fenning and that the case was responsible largely for Fenning's exposure, it would be but fitting that he be given the commissioner's job.

Officials Assail Suit Of Hospital Patient

Commissioners Bell and Rudolph and Everett L. Phillips, sanitary officer of the District, who were sued for $100,000 damages each by Miss Mary A. Ruthven, East Clifton Terrace apartments, for alleged false imprisonment at St. Elizabeth's hospital, and alleged assault and battery, alleged defamation of character and alleged conspiracy, filed their pleas yesterday in circuit court through Corporation Counsel Francis H. Stephens.

It is contended by the officials that the declarations are faulty and contain no facts or alleged facts to support the allegations against them.

Capt. J. J. Cheatham Injured by Motorist

While crossing Seventeenth street, near I street northwest, last night, Capt. Johnston J. Cheatham, 52 years old, U. S. N., residing at the Dresden apartments, was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven by a "hit-and-run" motorist according to police. Capt. Cheatham, who was bruised on the body, refused hospital treatment, and was taken to his home. His condition is not serious.

Police obtained the license number of the "hit-and-run" car, and the arrest of the driver is expected.

Dog Rips Flaming Clothes Off Girl Now in Life Fight

Mother and Pet Burned in Heroic Effort to Save 5-Year-Old Daughter of Police Lieut. Sullivan; Played With Match.

Rita Margaret, 5-year-old daughter of Police Lieut. Jeremiah Sullivan, of the Fourteenth police precinct, lay last night in Children's hospital not far from death while loving hands sought to assuage the intense pain from burns which seared the little girl's body when her clothing caught fire at her home Saturday afternoon.

Described by physicians and nurses as one of the gamiest little sufferers ever brought under their care, Rita Margaret has a fighting chance for life, and, if there are no feared complications, will win her fight.

In the Sullivan home, 103 I street northwest, Jessie, Rita Margaret's dog, with burned mouth and head and singed coat, is being nursed.

The burns sustained by Mrs. Mary Sullivan, mother of Rita Margaret, were able to hold the flames enveloping the body of her child have been forgotten by her in her anxiety for her child and her love of the heroic dog.

Rita Margaret was playing on the back porch of her home, examining the works of an old alarm clock, with Jessie, which was a little woolly pup when Rita Margaret was a tiny baby, an interested onlooker. In some fashion the child got a match, and in her play ignited it. In a moment her dress was in flames.

Rita Margaret's scream of fear and pain was echoed by her brother Tom, 12 years old, and her sister, Mary Ellen, 7 years old, both of whom were playing in the kitchen just inside the porch door, and in the barking of Jessie, Mrs. Sullivan, running from the dining room, grabbed a large tablecloth and raced toward her baby.

Dancing about, with sharp peremptory barks, the dog bit at the burning clothing, tearing garments from its little mistress before the frantic mother could cross the kitchen and porch and smother the flames in the table cloth. Neighbors rushed to aid and summoned physicians and Lieut. Sullivan, who carried his daughter to the hospital.

Terribly burned about the abdomen, legs and arms, Rita Margaret was laid last night to have a chance for recovery, unless overworked organs fail to carry the extra burden of disposing of the toxin dammed up by the seared flesh.

WINCHESTER WELCOMES BYRD TO HIS OLD HOME

Return Is Marked by Cheers, Banquet, Parade and a Reception.

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., July 14.—Home for the first time since he made his north pole flight two months ago, Lieut. Comdr. Richard Evelyn Byrd was tonight acclaimed the city's hero at a popular demonstration arranged by school-day and war-time chums. A day of gloomy weather gave way to bright sunshine an hour before his arrival. He was accompanied by Floyd Bennett, his flying mate on the polar expedition.

From the moment his train arrived at 6 o'clock from Washington until he slipped off about midnight to his boyhood bed at his mother's home, Commander Byrd, known here as "Little Dick," was the central figure of an outburst of jubilation that knew no bounds. Crowds that choked the railroad station approaches surged about the train, and as the young officer appeared on the car platform he was lifted off his feet by enthusiastic admirers and carried to the fringe of the throng.

Commander Byrd then held a public reception at the hotel for half an hour, after which a testimonial banquet was served. Covers were laid for 300. Nearly every city and town in the Shenandoah valley was represented. Staunton sent Mayor H. McK. Smith and a delegation of 20.

Commander Byrd and Admiral Nulton, escorted by Robert Y. Conrad post, American Legion, and the citizens' band headed a foot parade from the hotel through downtown streets to the Handley High school stadium.

Gold medals ordered struck by the board of supervisors of Frederick county and the Winchester city council were presented to Byrd and Bennett by Rear Admiral Nulton.

AMISS IS HONORED BY SHAD-BAKE GROUP

A testimonial dinner and outing was tendered to T. Brooke Amiss, Jr., chairman of the 1926 Shad Bake committee of the Board of Trade, by members of the shad bake and membership committees at the Anglers club, on Conduit road, yesterday.

Horseshoe pitching and swimming were the principal diversions. The winners of the horseshoe pitching contest were Paul Ledig and John Smith.

A traveling suit case was presented to Mr. Amiss by President J. Harry Cunningham, at the dinner held in the club house last night. In presenting the gift Mr. Cunningham, on behalf of the trade body, expressed its appreciation for the work done by Mr. Amiss in making the last shad bake outing a success. Mr. Cunningham presided as toastmaster and music was furnished by the Board of Trade quartet. Approximately 40 members and guests attended the dinner. Maj. W. E. R. Covell, assistant engineer commissioner, was among the invited guests.

WOMAN DESCRIBES FOUR-HOUR BATTLE AGAINST ASSAILANT

A. L. Gorby, 24, Is Arrested After Mrs. Augusta Hamilton, 38, Relates Story.

SAYS SHE WAS LURED BY BUSINESS PROMISE

Tells of Sleeping on Porch After Fleeing From Chauffeur.

A story of an attack, in which she fought off her assailant for almost four hours, was told police yesterday by Mrs. Augusta Hamilton, 38 years old, 1229 New York avenue northwest, and resulted in the arrest on statutory charges of Allen Leroy Gorby, 24, a chauffeur of 1827 W street southeast. Gorby was turned over later to authorities of Arlington county, Va., where the attack is alleged to have occurred.

According to Mrs. Hamilton, Gorby accosted her about 7:30 Tuesday evening while she was making a telephone call at the offices of a sightseeing company at First street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He asked her what her business was and she replied, "Real estate." Gorby is then said to have pressed ownership of property in Virginia which he wanted her to see, offering her $200 commission on the land should she sell it. Only after Gorby had been vouchered for by a "man in uniform" did she consent to go with him, the woman said.

Driving to a spot a short distance west of Arlington cemetery in a taxi, Gorby is said to have dismissed the cab. After walking a while, presumably in search of the property, it is alleged the man attempted to attack Mrs. Hamilton. Two unidentified men in an automobile are said to have tried to rescue her, but were forced to leave when Gorby is alleged to have drawn a revolver and ordered them off.

Slept in Rocking Chair.

Mrs. Hamilton said the man again attacked her. After a struggle in which she was bruised about the face and body, she said, she broke away from Gorby and ran to the home of William and Pauline Pusley, colored, who refused to let her in. She told police she passed the night in a rocking chair on the porch of the negro home.

According to police, the exercise that he took the woman to Virginia on false pretenses, but denied attacking her. Mrs. Hamilton told authorities she has lived in Washington fifteen years, during which time she has served as secretary to Representative Goldfogle, of New York; Representative Garrett, of Tennessee; Senator Norbeck, of South Dakota, and Senator Taggart, of Indiana. She is a widow and a native of Prince Georges county.

Robson Has Clear Field for Reelection

Representative John M. Robson, of Kentucky, has a clear field for reelection, according to word sent by him to the Republican congressional campaign committee here. He had no opposition for reelection. Representative Robson is the primary.

The comfortable position in which Representative Robson finds himself is unprecedented in the history of his congressional career. The outlook for the reelection of Senator Richard P. Ernst was described by Representative Robson as "good."

Man Injured by Automobile.

James Simms, colored, 55 years old, 2611 Virginia avenue northwest, suffered a fractured right arm and a dislocated shoulder when he was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven, police say, by John F. Stubbs, 1051 Potomac street northwest, while he was crossing Pennsylvania avenue near Twenty-fifth street northwest last night. Simms was taken to Emergency hospital, where physicians said his condition was not serious.

Man Collapses; Charity Aid Asked.

Casualty hospital officials yesterday asked the Board of Charities to aid Thomas Kingston, 21 years old, of Texas, who was treated at the hospital after he had collapsed at Sixth and G streets northwest, suffering from old gunshot wounds. He is without funds. Kingston said he received the wounds in a battle on the Mexican border two years ago. His occupation is "cow puncher" and ranch hand.

Brakeman Loses Both Legs in Potomac Yards

Roy Simpson, 31 years old, a brakeman employed at the Potomac freight yards, was struck by a freight car in the yards late Tuesday night, and his legs were so badly mangled that it was necessary to amputate them. He was taken to Alexandria hospital, where his right leg was removed below the knee, and the left just above the knee. It was reported at the hospital last night that his condition was favorable and that he was resting comfortably.

According to Superintendent Robert M. Colvin, of the Potomac yards, the yard crew was returning from a supper, and when it started to switch cars on the "hump," they saw "something white" on the track, too late to stop the cars, which struck Simpson, ran over his legs and threw his body from the track.

13 LEADING TURKS HANGED AT SMYRNA; ONE WARNS NATION

RUDE GALLOWES SET UP ON WATERFRONT OF CITY

Six Members of Parliament
Among Those Killed for Plot Against Kemal.

Smyrna, Asiatic Turkey, July 14 (By A. P.).—Thirteen men, six of them members of the Turkish parliament, were hanged at the street corners along the waterfront at dawn today for conspiring to assassinate their president, Mustafa Kemal Pasha. All died protesting their innocence.

Diambolet Bey, former minister of the interior and one of the leaders of the union progress party, warned his executioners that the wholesale hangings would bring misfortune to new Turkey. His speech was cut short by the noose.

Daybreak revealed a mournful sight on Smyrna quay, where four years ago hundreds of refugees found safety from the great fire which literally removed all traces of the Biblical city. Stretching in an unbroken and ominous line down the short waterfront street were thirteen rude gallows—in reality simple tripods—with short nooses attached. The street was deserted, save for a few Greek and Turkish shopkeepers, who craned their necks fearfully from the doors and upper windows of the shops that crowd this quarter.

Executions Arrive.
Soon was heard the tread of marching feet, and at one end of the cobblestone street appeared the silent band of executioners with their prisoners. Little groups clustered around the thirteen tri-

Prince of Wales Hints At Beheading Rogers

London, July 14 (By A. P.).—Will Rogers, the American cowboy comedian, who has gently joked the Prince of Wales more than once on the subject of horse-manship, has admitted that the prince recently scored a bit of repartee that bowled him over.

Will was in London when it happened and was received by the prince in memory of their friendship, cemented on Long Island polo fields during Wales' visit in 1921. This time it was the prince who scored.

"What a pity it is," Wales said, "that people are no longer beheaded in the Tower of London. We would like to know what Mr. Rogers would say when he felt the cold steel of an ax at the back of his neck."

Rogers is going back to the movies for a while, having signed to play a comedy lead in support of Dorothy Gish in "Tip-Toes," in which she is starring for British National pictures.

The trial of the condemned men, who were charged with plotting the death of Kemal Pasha on his arrival at Smyrna on June 18 last, disclosed that the very existence of the plot, and civil war would have followed, and certain of Turkey's foreign enemies might not have remained passive.

Among those hanged were Chukri Bey, deputy from Isaid; Zia Huch-Bey, a former deputy, and Ruchdi Pasha, deputy from Erzerum. Evidence was adduced at the trial to show that the plot was conceived and carried out by a group of individuals closely associated with the opposition party.

Hand Grenades Prepared.
Four men were sent to Broussa to assassinate Kemal Pasha, but, finding no opportunity, returned to Constantinople, where it was decided the assassination should take place on Kemal's entry.

Small hand grenades were prepared, and one of these was to be handed in a bouquet to the Turkish president by a woman. Kemal canceled the visit, and it was then decided to attack him on a holiday which he intended to take in Smyrna.

Government agents, learning of the plot, arrested 50 persons, some of whom were finally discharged or not put on trial. A number of others were acquitted, among them several generals who had fought with Kemal Pasha to win Turkey's independence.

INJUNCTION TO CLOSE
SESQUI SUNDAY ASKED

Philadelphia, July 14 (By A. P.).—Filing an application for injunction against opening the sesquicentennial exposition Sundays and issuance of warrants for arrest of twelve exposition employees, charged with violating the State law of 1794 pertaining to Sunday amusements, were developments today in the campaign of ministers and others to keep the exposition closed on the Sabbath.

Common Pleas Court Judge Thomas D. Finletter set Monday to hear arguments for the injunction. The application was filed by an attorney for the Methodist men's committee, and the same organization applied for the warrants.

These charged gate keepers, cashiers and ticket sellers with misdemeanors, but the lone constable sent to serve them reported little success.

He said he was rebuffed by girl employees and others, who refused to give their names, and he finally gave up the task.

Three of those named in the warrants were arrested tonight. One was Miss Janice E. Elcholtz, student at the University of Pennsylvania, who was employed on the "Treasure Island" concession. She was arrested in a Betsy Ross costume when arrested.

CRIME COMMISSION WOULD TIGHTEN LAW AGAINST OFFENDERS

Greater Number of Convictions Sought in Suggestions for Revision.

WOULD BE INCREASED

National Body Urges Changes in Criminal Code by All States.

New York, July 14 (By A. P.).—The finger of the national crime commission was pointed at the weak spots in criminal law today.

From a six-months study to determine why 90 per cent of major criminals are not apprehended and why 75 per cent of those caught escape punishment, the subcommittee on criminal procedure and judicial administration emerged with 20 recommendations for putting the criminal in jail and keeping him there.

The provisions, contained in a report made to the commission, recommend, among other changes in criminal law, that judges be allowed to comment on evidence, that attorneys be permitted to draw inferences from the failure of a defendant to testify in his own behalf, that power of district attorneys to quash proceedings be modified, and that activities of professional bondsmen be curtailed.

Less a Game of Skill.
"Under these provisions," Herbert S. Hadley, chancellor of Washington university, St. Louis, chairman of the committee, said, "the trial of the criminal will become less a game of skill, cunning and endurance between opposing lawyers and more a judicial investigation under the trained and impartial direction of a judge to ascertain the truth."

Every provision offered as a remedy for weakness in criminal procedure is law in one or more States, Chancellor Hadley said. The report is offered as an outline of a code of criminal procedure. Adoption of this code by State legislatures probably will be urged.

The "third degree" was the first subject considered by the subcommittee. It was recommended that every person charged with a felony be taken before a magistrate or other judicial officer and after being informed of his rights, be permitted to make statements and answer questions regarding the charge. This, Hadley said, "would leave police, 'no excuse for conducting secret, unregulated and oppressive examinations.'"

Would Banish Alien Juror.
The alien juror would be banished by the subcommittee's outline. Recommendation was made that only citizens of the United States who can read and write English and have not been convicted of felony be permitted to serve as jurors. The "ordinary citizen who reads newspapers" would not be disqualified.

Joint trial of those charged with conspiracy, riot, and affray, and all jointly indicted was recommended. Limitation of the presumption of innocence to the extent of placing upon the State only the onus of proving a defendant guilty beyond reasonable doubt and a "five-sixth" verdict by jury in all except cases involving capital punishment also was recommended.

Courts authorized to place defendants on probation and those authorized to pardon on parole would be required to give notice to prosecuting officers under one provision. Another recommendation was that defendants appealing from a judgment or conviction for bailable offenses be held in custody unless the trial court certify reasonable ground for appeal.

Pleas of Insanity Changed.
Recommendation was made that persons desiring to make pleas of insanity be required to present such pleas ten days before trial, and that where the plea is insanity at the time of commission of crime the judge may call three disinterested qualified experts to testify

ELKS DEDICATE TEMPLE TO ORDER'S WAR HEROES

$3,000,000 Edifice in Chicago
Silent Tribute to Men Who Lost Lives.

ANNUAL PARADE TODAY

Chicago, July 14 (By A. P.).—The portals of the new monument to America's part in the world war were swung wide today by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Standing with bare heads before the vaulted temple, emissaries of the antlered brotherhood heard it consecrated with oratory and fraternal rites to the thousands of sons of Elkdom who lost their lives for the flag, to the 70,000 more who went to war and came home again, and to the order's patriotic devotion.

The $3,000,000 edifice was accepted by Grand Exalted Ruler William Hawley Atwell with the pledge that "here, at the base of this monument, to the silent army in which there were so many of our brethren, and in the presence of the hovering hosts that fill the heavens, we dedicate ourselves anew to nation, to the Bible, to friendship, to patriotism, and to all those with-in reach of our arms who need us so much."

The principal address of the dedication was by Rush L. Holland, of Washington, former Assistant Attorney General of the United States and a past grand exalted ruler of the order, who reviewed the work of the lodge in the world war.

"We had long professed a real patriotism of devotion and of sacrifice. The war gave us our first opportunity to demonstrate that we were sincere in this profession. But something remained for us to do—something which throughout succeeding generations would stand as a testimonial of our unflinching loyalty to country, our gratitude to those who served and suffered. This sentiment finds physical expression in this memorial dedicated in patriotism to patriotism."

Chairman John K. Tener, former governor of Pennsylvania, announced that the memorial represents an investment of $3.10 for each of the more than 800,000 members of the fraternity. In addition to the $2,500,000 already expended in construction, $400,000 has been appropriated for murals, sculpture and embellishment inside the structure, whose principal feature is a vast memorial hall, rising like a cylinder from the low wings, which will house the national offices of the lodge.

Tonight the Elks congregated to witness the crowning of the nation's queen, Miss Jean Marre, as "Miss Fidelity." The blonde beauty, winner of a city-wide competition, was given a motion picture contract and two attendants were crowned "Miss Charity" and "Miss Brotherhood Love."

Victim of Crash Dies;
His Wife in Hospital

Baltimore, Md., July 14 (By A. P.).—Abraham Reinhardt, of Greenville, S. C., died in St. Joseph's hospital today while his wife, ignorant of his condition, was at Hebrew hospital suffering from bruises and shock. The Reinhardt automobile was struck by another car here.

Sheldon Brown, driver of the other machine, was summoned for reckless driving immediately after the accident. Reinhardt, when taken to the hospital, was not believed seriously injured.

and shall fix the fees of such alienists. In the matter of the persons found to have been insane at the time they committed a crime, it was recommended that the jury be permitted to return a special verdict finding the accused committed the crime, but not guilty by reason of insanity.

In cases where such special verdicts are returned it was recommended that the court immediately order an investigation to determine whether the defendant is sane or insane at that time. If sane, he would be discharged, and if insane, would be committed to an asylum until recovery.

The limitation of the nolle prosequi power of district attorneys would be accomplished by a provision making it necessary for prosecutors to advise courts in writing of reasons for such action and the granting to courts of power to overrule.

The subcommittee stated the opinion that those committed to penal institutions in error should be reimbursed for suffering due to miscarriages of justice.

PROHIBITION IS BLAMED
FOR CRIME WAVE IN U. S.

Mayor Dever, of Chicago, Addressing Bar Association, Deplores Dry Law.

LONG ASSAULTS CONDITIONS

Denver, Colo., July 14.—America's great spectacle of prohibition and crime, the breakdown of respect for law that has followed Volsteadism, the futility of courts in a strait-jacket of antiquated procedure trying to cope against hardened, organized malefactors with great finances of bootleg, rum running, moonshine and bank robbery money, formed the composite topic at the opening of today's session of the American Bar association.

Mayor William E. Dever, of Chicago, in an outspoken utterance this afternoon, said that after six years of Volsteadism, such appalling phenomena cluster around the liquor question that good government in the large cities is impossible to get without a final settlement.

Out of the depths of his experience in Chicago, he pointed out that laws do not lessen moral turpitude, but regulate ordinary human conduct. Volsteadism, in a word, was resented by many as an "impossible task."

A picture of justice, not only blindfolded but handcuffed and placed in a straitjacket by too many laws and too antiquated procedure, was pointed out by Chester I. Long, of Wichita, Kans., president of the bar association, in his opening address. He said, flatly, the courts are helpless and futile before the onslaughts of modernized crime.

"Slow down the legislatures and speed up the courts, let that be our slogan," Mr. Long said, in a candid discussion of crime conditions as they are.

The public has lost confidence in the efficacy of the courts and their results in the enforcement of the criminal law," he added. "Crimes of violence have become so frequent that in several States certain classes of citizens have taken into their hands the protection of their lives and property. This is true of bankers. It is the greatest reflection on our courts."

Rasmussen to Join Expedition.
Copenhagen, July 14 (By A. P.).—Knud Rasmussen, noted arctic explorer, will leave today to join the Palmer Putnam expedition at Etah, Greenland. The expedition is collecting bird and animal specimens in the arctic.

One balloon was reported down, two others were believed to be over Arkansas or near southeast Missouri, and officials had no trace of a fourth, 24 hours after the start of the four bags from here yesterday in the Elks national race. The bag which travels farthest will receive a $1,000 prize and a loving cup. The one longest in the air also will win a trophy.

The Greater St. Louis, entered by Capt. H. E. Honeywell for the St. Louis Association of Commerce and piloted by the captain and his daughter, was the first of the quartet of entries to land. It descended at Thompsonville, Ill., approximately 300 miles southwest of Chicago, at 4:30 o'clock this morning, forced down by a leaking intake in its gas bag.

From a score of reports from localities which sighted the three bags which remained aloft, officers of the National Aeronautic association deduced, in the absence of messages from the ships, that only two of the balloons had been sighted and that the third was clinging to the upper atmosphere.

Balloons were seen at Herrin, Benton, Mount Vernon and Mounds, Ill., Caruthersville, Mo., and Blytheville, Ark., today. Officials believe that these reports accounted for two balloons, and estimated that both were approximately 550 miles distant from the starting point. The other balloon probably was farther East than its mates, meteorologists estimated, if it stayed in the upper air, in which the direction of the wind had an Eastward bearing. The pilots have been told by radio that an atmospheric disturbance is travelling toward them from the central Appalachians.

All the craft are apparently far short of existing balloon records. The endurance record is 87 hours, set in 1917 by a Dutch balloonist, while the distance record of 1,896 miles, made by the Berliner, has stood since 1914.

Byhalia, Miss., July 14 (By A. P.).—A balloon, identified as "Hiball No. 4," in the Elks national balloon race, passed over Byhalia at 7 o'clock tonight. A message dropped from the craft gave the name and requested that Thomas Wolfe, secretary of the national balloon race, Chicago, be notified. The altitude of the balloon was given as 1,700 feet. The message was signed by R. A. U. Rasmussen, pilot, and Edward J. Hill, assistant pilot.

PRESIDENT TAKES BRIEF FISHING TRIP; READS AND RESTS

Visitors at White Pine Camp Make No Attempt to See Coolidges.

HOMER SNYDER URGES
WET AGAINST SMITH

American Flag Is Raised on New Staff in Front of
"White House."

Paul Smiths, N. Y., July 14 (By A. P.).—Visitors appeared at the summer White House today, but no attempt was made to see President Coolidge, and the section of White Pine camp remained unbroken.

Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, motored from Lake Placid, where he is spending the summer, to the executive offices and paid his respects to Secretary Sanders. He also greeted attaches of the White House with whom he was associated for eight years in Washington.

Another visitor was former Representative Homer P. Snyder, Republican, of Oneida county, New York, who arranged to remain a day or more at Paul Smiths hotel while in an automobile tour of this region. It was indicated he would pay his respects to the President.

Would Advise President.

Discussing political conditions in the State informally, Mr. Snyder expressed the opinion that to win this fall, especially if Gov. Smith should stand for reelection, the Republicans should nominate a wet for governor. He stood ready to inform Mr. Coolidge, adding that he would not only should the Republican candidate for the Senate be a wet, but the party platform at least should go to the extent of approving the action of the State legislature in providing for a referendum on the prohibition question.

As for President Coolidge, however, there was no apparent consideration given to political conditions. The day was one of the pleasantest, with bright sunshine and balmy air, since his arrival in the Adirondacks one week ago, and after a fishing trip in the early morning, he spent the time in quiet relaxation.

Three-pound Pike Caught.

Putting out on Lake Osgood in a guide boat for nearly three hours in the morning, the President added to his fishing laurels by catching a three-pound pike. He then returned to the camp to turn his attention to routine government business.

The day was not so restful for some of the newspaper correspondents who have accompanied him to the mountains, however. A. H. Kirchofer, Washington correspondent of the Buffalo News, and Leonard Smith, Albany correspondent of the New York Evening Post, having an involuntary ducking in the cold waters of lower St. Regis lake, when their canoe capsized.

The two clung to the canoe and after being in the water nearly fifteen minutes were rescued by Erwin Strobel, a native, who went to their rescue in a power boat. Maj. Coupal, physician to President Coolidge, attended them immediately and tonight they were none the worse for their experience.

U. S. Flag Is Raised.

The American flag was raised above the summer White House today on a new 30-foot flagpole. President Coolidge attending the setting up of the pole and the raising of the flag by his naval aid, Capt. Wilson Brown. At Washington Mr. Coolidge has the flag on a standard beside his desk at all times, and it was in continuance of this custom that he had the flagpole put up in front of his living cabin and office at White Pine Camp. There was no ceremony attending the raising, but all hands went off as the flag soared aloft.

In the afternoon Mr. Coolidge sat on the porch of his main cabin reading and later going over the mail.

Mrs. Coolidge, in addition to passing much time with him during the day, went for a canoe ride on Lake Osgood.

COOLIDGE IGNORES GLOOMY FORECASTS

and losing only La Follette's home State, Wisconsin.

The Republicans may lose control of the Senate in the elections this year, but if they do it will not be on account of the agricultural issue, according to the administration view. The prohibition issue will be more responsible than the farm relief question for returning Democrats in place of Republicans, for the Democratic attitude toward the Haugen bill was not more satisfactory to the corn belt than was the administration attitude.

Republican leaders interested in renominating and reelecting Mr. Coolidge remind one, when discussing the present state of mind of the corn belt, that a lot of water will run under the bridge before 1928. They believe that with a steady spread of prosperity throughout the country the corn belt will find time on the mend. They also expect the administration to be able to demonstrate the benefits of cooperative marketing under the only farm relief measure Congress did pass at the last session.

Senator Cummins' statement predicting that President Coolidge will not be a candidate to succeed himself in 1928, commanded much attention yesterday in political circles in Washington. While it evoked little formal comment, there was plenty of talk about it in an informal and more or less private way. This comment proceeded both from the friends and opponents of President Coolidge, and varied in character according as it came from Coolidge supporters or those who are antagonistic to him.

In general, however, the comment here is that there is nothing in the present situation which warrants the statement President Coolidge will not be a candidate in 1928. His friends expect him to be a candidate and are making their preparations accordingly. His opponents, though they would like to see him drop out of the running, have little expectation he will do so and up to this time at least, have no warrant for believing he will not run.

In administration circles the talk is that President Coolidge is not likely to authorize any comment on the statement of Senator Cummins. It is declared President Coolidge will decline to be "smoked out" by this or any other statement predicting whether he will be a candidate.

Mussolini Assault's Sanity Will Be Tested

Rome, July 14 (By A. P.).—Two psychiatrists have been appointed a committee to determine whether the Hon. Violet Albina Gibson, sister of Lord Ashbourne, was mentally irresponsible, either partially or totally, April 7, when she shot and slightly wounded Premier Mussolini. The committee consists of Prof. Augusto Giannelli and Prof. Sante de Sanctis.

A Rome dispatch early in May said counsel for Miss Gibson would plead insanity. Mussolini was shot through the nostrils with a pistol bullet of small caliber.

ORDERS TO RECRUIT DRY FORCE'S SUPER ARMY ARE ISSUED

150 New Agents to Be Taken On in New York for Inspection Duty.

CHIEF HOPES TO CUT
DIVERSIONS 80 PER CENT

Rumor of Hovering Rum Fleet Causes 15 to Be Enrolled at Los Angeles.

(By Associated Press.)

Organization of prohibition's "super" army went forward swiftly yesterday with the issuing of orders for enlistment of 150 new men for New York and 15 for Los Angeles. The additional forces, part of the 966 new men authorized by Congress at the request of Assistant Secretary Andrews, will be put into action as soon as possible.

Action at Los Angeles was hastened by receipt of word that a rum fleet was doing business off the Lower California coast. The new staff there will be employed in coast patrol duties, principally as shore workers under the direction of the collector of customs.

100 for Inspection.

In New York, Captain Mills, the administrator who conferred here yesterday with Frank Dow, acting prohibition chief, will use 100 of his new staff in inspection work. They will check up on permits to make sure that drug stores and industrial plants using denatured alcohol are not letting their supplies seep into illegal channels.

"We are going after the diversion of denatured alcohol," Mills said, "which amounts now to between 400,000 and 500,000 gallons a month. With these men I will be disappointed if we don't cut this flow of alcohol by 80 per cent within the year."

To Tax Bootleggers.

The remainder of the new forces for New York will include clerks and lawyers, who will seek to carry out Gen. Andrews' plan to assess taxes against bootleggers.

"By this means we should collect considerable revenue," Mills said. "There are many cases pending involving large sums."

The Los Angeles staff is part of the 235 new men authorized by Congress for border patrol, and it is planned by Mr. Dow to put 15 at San Francisco soon.

Mr. Dow also announced the appointment of James C. Waddell, of New York, a West Point graduate, as supervisor of the newly organized beer squad. He will succeed Thomas E. Stone, who will be transferred to other duties.

Gen. Andrews Will Open London Conference Today

London, July 14 (By A. P.).—One of the strangest international conferences ever convened in London will be inaugurated tomorrow at the British foreign office, when Brig. Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, chief of the prohibition enforcement.

ment service of the United States, and his aids will meet officials of the British government. They hope to work out detailed plans for thwarting international bootleggers who send their rum cargoes to the United States across the Atlantic and from Canada and the Bahamas.

Personnel Shifted In Infantry Office

The following changes in personnel of the office of the chief of infantry here are scheduled for the near future, according to War Department announcement yesterday:

Maj. Nathan H. Thompson, a graduate of this year's class Army War college, will relieve Maj. John H. Hester, in charge of the war plans section; Maj. Stephen J. Chamberlain, who has been on duty with the national guard of Virginia, will take charge of the intelligence section; Maj. Thompson Lawrence, from the tank school at Fort Meade, Md., will replace Maj. John W. Leonard in the equipment section; Maj. Charles H. Bonesteel, a graduate of this year's class command and general staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kans., will replace Maj. Fred L. Walker, in charge of the training section, and Maj. Alexander Wilson, graduate of this year's class War college, has been assigned to the office for temporary duty.

Bill Never Passed Signed by President

Just a few minutes before the close of the recent session of Congress President Coolidge signed a bill which had never passed in place of a measure that had received the approval of both houses.

One of the half hundred or so bills rushed through the Senate on the last day was House Resolution 10540, proposing an appropriation of $10,000 for Indian affairs. A Senate clerk, in his haste to relay all bills approved to Speaker Longworth and Vice President Dawes for signature, picked up H. R. 10504, which would provide for a monument at Shiloh battlefield, and it was this latter measure the President signed.

Church Investigates Reported Branding

(By the Associated Press.)

The foreign mission board of the Seventh Day Adventists is investigating the reported branding of a Korean boy by Dr. C. A. Haysmer, medical missionary of that denomination, and will act in the case when the circumstances are confirmed through the State Department.

A statement by Elder W. A. Spicer, chairman of the board, declared it "disapproves and repudiates utterly any mistreatment of any person by a missionary."

Coolidge Lauds Army Fire Fighting Saving

By improving the use of existing equipment and facilities to replace standard motor-driven fire apparatus, as replacement becomes necessary, the quartermaster corps of the army has effected a saving of approximately $1,000,000 which otherwise would be necessarily expended for fire apparatus.

President Coolidge has conveyed through Secretary of War Davis to Maj. Gen. B. F. Cheatham, quartermaster general, his congratulations on this constructive economy.

COMPANY ABANDONS RIVER POWER PLANS

Harnessing of Potomac and Shenandoah Given Up and Equipment Removed.

Cleveland, July 14 (By A. P.).—Abandonment of plans of the Potomac Power Co., Cleveland, to harness power of the Potomac and Shenandoah rivers was announced tonight by Robert J. Bulkley, president of the company.

The project, which started with installation of equipment in the Martinsburg, W. Va., district, was designed to furnish water power to Baltimore and other Eastern cities. This equipment is being dismantled and the company's engineers and surveyors withdrawn, Bulkley said. Complications which resulted from the power company's efforts to acquire property of the Harpers Ferry (W. Va.) Paper Co. caused the abandonment of the project.

Brazilian Mission Extended. The personnel of the United States naval mission to Brazil, headed by Rear Admiral N. A. McCully, will remain unchanged for the present. The term of the mission was extended yesterday for a further period of four years at the request of the Brazilian government, the extension dating from November 6, 1926.

AMERICANS' DEBTS. AS INDIVIDUALS, PUT AT $25,000,000,000

$5,000,000 Paid Out Every Business Day in Interest Charges Alone.

INSTALLMENT AND RETAIL
BORROWING EXCLUDED

Separate Are Farm Mortgages on Which Annual Fee Is $500,000,000.

By WILLIAM P. HELM, JR.

Aside from the corporations, the American people owe as individuals, a careful estimate discloses, not less than $25,000,000,000 on which they are paying interest directly. This does not include installment sales where the interest payment is somewhat disguised. It does not include farm mortgages or open accounts with the tens of thousands of retail stores. If those owing were counted in, the total would be swollen by additional billions now beyond accurate estimate.

During the present month the individuals owing the interest-bearing debt of $25,000,000,000 are paying out approximately $5,000,000 for every business day in interest charges alone. At the average wage, this sum would give employment to nearly 1,000,000 men for a single day. Thus it appears that the energies of an army half as large as that sent to France during the world war are being used day in and day out simply to pay the interest on what we owe as individuals. A million men are working full time to meet the interest alone.

The figures are conservative. Income tax returns of 1922 show interest payments by individuals amounting to $850,000,000. Your correspondent estimates that this sum rose about one-fifth in 1923, bringing it to about $1,020,000,000 for the year. It has continued to rise and probably stands today at $1,500,000,000 for the current amount is apparent when it is realized that it covers only the group of 7,000,000 persons making income tax returns to the Federal government. What the others owe can not be accurately estimated.

Annual Interest $1,500,000,000.

A calculation based on annual interest charges of $1,500,000,000 on individual obligations places the total owing at $25,000,000,000, assuming the interest rate to average 6 per cent.

No allowance has been made for interest charges on installment sales, in considering this item. Perhaps nine out of every ten small taxpayers forget to deduct the interest paid on installment purchases made by them during the year. A man, for instance, who buys a $1,500 automobile, paying one-third cash and the remainder on installment payments, actually pays out about $60 in interest on the installments during the year, probably more. He is entitled to deduct the interest charge on his tax return, but often fails to do so. The same ruling applies to other installment purchases where interest figures in the deferred payments. In most individual cases, this interest charge is small, but in the aggregate it reaches imposing figures.

Included in the $25,000,000,000 owing by individuals is the sum borrowed on first mortgages on urban real estate. Some of the money borrowed on second mortgages probably is included, too, but much of it is believed to have escaped the reckoning in the income tax returns in the same manner as interest on installment purchases. How much is owing by individual mortgagors is somewhat difficult to estimate, but the total is hardly less than $10,000,000,000.

What Farmers Owe.

The farmers of the country alone owed nearly $8,000,000,000 in mortgages on their property in 1920, according to figures compiled jointly by the census bureau and the Agriculture Department's bureau of finance. The total that year was $7,857,700,000 and 40 per cent of the sum was absorbed by farmers of the five states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. It is a significant finding, too, that the farms occupied and run by tenants showed much larger rates of mortgage than those operated by their owners. The tenant farms on which loans had been made showed that about 30 per cent of the land value was covered by the mortgage, whereas the farms operated by their owners were mortgaged, on the average, to the extent of less than 10 per cent of their value.

During the year in which this census was made, farm values were at their highest. They have shrunk since then by several billions of dollars. One of the results of this shrinking process has been to hold the amount of money lent on farm mortgages to about its 1920 level. Any tendency to rise has been checked.

Pay Half of Wheat Crop.

Assuming that the farm mortgages today run to only the same figure as they did in 1920, the farmers of the country are paying out annually in interest at the present time upward of $500,000,000. More than half of the wheat crop goes to pay interest alone every year on mortgages on American farms. And if the farmers were to try to pay off their mortgaged debt alone they would be compelled to devote to the task two-thirds of all the money received by them for all the crops raised throughout the country during the year.

If the farmers were to attempt to pay off all their debts, including the mortgage, they would have to work about two years and give to their creditors everything produced on all American farms during that period, keeping for themselves only sufficient to sustain life during the two seasons.

Such is the average. Among farmers, however, as in the case of every other group, conditions which go to make up that average are spotty. Some farmers, figures show, are comfortably situated and others are in real financial bondage. The rank and file probably owe about two years' crops.

$750,000,000 on Mortgages.

First mortgages owned by urban residents as individuals run, it is thought, to a larger figure than total farm mortgages. Much city residential property, such as hotels and apartment houses, is owned by corporations and mortgages owed by corporations are not being considered, for the moment, in this analysis. City dwellers probably pay another $600,000,000 to $750,000,000 annually in interest on the first mortgages on their homes.

Another $750,000,000 a year is paid out in interest, the figures indicate, on money borrowed by individuals on security other than real estate. Here, again, the greatest borrowers at the banks are corporations. It is impossible, in the light of present information, to estimate accurately how much of the bank loans represent the borrowings of individuals as compared with corporations. The income tax figures are probably the best guide and they indicate total interest payments of about $1,500,000,000 a year at the present time by individual income taxpayers.

RUM BRIBES OFFERED COAST GUARD, IS CLAIM

Officer Mentions $20,000, House, Auto, Diamond and Job at Dwyer Trial.

ALL REFUSED, HE SAYS

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, July 14.—Attempts at wholesale bribery on the part of bootleggers to get rum cargoes past coast guard officers were related today before Judge Mack in United States district court, where William V. Dwyer, alleged head of the $40,000,000 rum ring, is on trial charged with violating the Volstead act. There are nine codefendants on trial with him.

John H. Reeder, a warrant officer of the coast guard, was the witness who furnished the startling evidence today. He said that when the coast guard seized the rum ship Robert C. Clowry, with 5,000 cases of liquor on board, he was offered $20,000 in cash, a brick house on Long Island, a diamond ring, an automobile and a job at $150 a week to "forget" about the seizure of the vessel.

The warrant officer, whose salary at the time was $60 a month and whose salary now is $100 a month, told of refusing the offer, and identified as the men who made them Dan O'Connor, captain of the Clowry, and Charles A. Smith, the ship's supercargo.

Robert Sanderson, another coast guardman who followed Reeder to the witness stand, testified that on the same occasion Smith had offered him a $20,000 bribe to let the Clowry go on her way.

Norfolk, Va., July 14 (By A. P.).—Ten thousand dollars in cash, payable in Norfolk, was offered him if he would permit the alleged rum-running barge Margaret Egan to proceed on its way. Chief Boatwain R. K. Middleton, commanding the coast guard patrol boat CG-89, testified today at the hearings of the four members of the barge crew before United States Commissioner Mahone.

All four were held for Federal court under $10,000 bond.

SIX IN BOAT MISSING AMONG FLORIDA KEYS

No Word of Party That Set Out Sunday Morning on One-Day Trip.

Miami, Fla., July 14 (By A. P.).—Six persons were missing here today, following disappearance of the small boat in which they left Coconut Grove Sunday morning for a one-day fishing trip among the lower Florida keys.

The men include Ray Kaufman, of Des Moines, and a group of extensive Coconut Grove properties; William Rucker, of Miami, and four unidentified persons, including two men and two women.

The party, anchored at the Powey Rock lighthouse, 18 miles southeast of Miami, about noon Sunday to repair the boat's engine and soon afterwards departed for Coconut Grove, informing J. A. Irwin, the lighthouse keeper, that they would communicate with him on their return.

Failing to receive any word, Irwin told police who have notified coast guardmen at the Fort Lauderdale base.

Two Oil Companies Enjoined in Virginia

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., July 14.—Ten independent dealers in gasoline and oil with their places of business in Albemarle county, recently united as complainants, today obtained from the court a temporary injunction order restraining the Standard Oil Co. and the Texas Oil Co. from continuing specified practices in connection with the sale and distribution of their products, alleged to be in violation of the antitrust laws of the State of Virginia.

At the instance of the defendants, the case has been removed to the United States district court for the Western district of Virginia, where it now awaits a hearing.

The officers of Germany's famous marine base and the city officials boarded the destroyers to extend an official greeting.

BALANCE OF TRADE STILL FAVORS U.S., BUT AT LOW MARK

$1,040,452,789 Excess of Last Year Dwindles in 1926 to $286,828,711.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM REPORTED BY HOOVER

Gold Imports Found to Surpass Exports; Higher Costs Cited.

(By the Associated Press.)

The barometer of foreign trade in merchandise, although remaining in this country's favor for the fiscal year ended June 30, dropped from a favorable balance of $1,040,452,789 for the previous year to $286,828,711.

On the basis of preliminary figures for June, when exports were $338,000,000 and imports $337,000,000, the total exports for the year were placed yesterday by the Commerce Department at $4,753,516,204, a decline of $111,064,960, while imports aggregated $4,466,687,493, an increase of $642,559,118.

Secretary Hoover and other officials of the department saw no reason for alarm at the figures. On the other hand, they said the increased imports, due to higher quantitative purchases and some price fluctuations upward, indicated that foreign industries were showing increased activity and that the American purchasing power was expanding along with the demand for foreign-made goods.

Lowest Since War.

The favorable balance for the last fiscal year was the lowest since the war, with the exception of 1923, when it was $175,774,000. The export decline, which amounted to about 2 1/2 per cent for the year ended June 30, was attributed by Mr. Hoover to lower prices for cotton and decreased grain production, exports of these two items alone falling off more than $420,000,000. The increase in imports, about 17 per cent, was described as due to larger quantities of raw materials imported and the increase in prices of some lines.

The export decline, which amounted to about 2 1/2 per cent for the year ended June 30, was attributed by Mr. Hoover to lower prices for cotton and decreased grain production, exports of these two items alone falling off more than $420,000,000.

The increase in imports, about 17 per cent, was described as due to larger quantities of raw materials imported and the increase in prices of some lines.

Silver Exports Decline.

Despite the greatly reduced merchandise balance, there was a net inward movement of gold of $97,288,026 during the year, as compared with a net outward movement of $114,584,562 for the previous year. Gold exports totaled $113,438,459, a decrease of $135,291,239, while imports were $10,150,726,485, a gain of $76,581,349.

Silver exports totaled $97,981,732, a decline of $10,846,995, and imports were $69,400,376, a decrease of $2,207,526. The excess of $28,581,356 of exports compared with an excess of $37,220,825 for the year previous.

The excess of gold imports in the face of the decline in the merchandise balance and the large volume of foreign loans floated in this country during the year was attributed by officials to the fact that part of the proceeds of the loans did not leave the country and to the "flight of the currencies from certain European countries," which, they said, expressed itself not in shipments of gold to the United States, but rather in transferring the proceeds of export sales to this country through international exchange channels.

The most significant thing in the year's statistics was asserted by Mr. Hoover to have been a 15 per cent increase in exports of finished manufactured articles.

PLUCK OF MARINES AVERTS EXPLOSIONS

Among them were photographs of the captain's smiling baby, a silver teapot and an army blouse, rumpled and grimy, but still bearing the double silver bars. The workman had found them in the ruins of the captain's home and was taking them to Mrs. Clarke.

The number of victims still stood at 21 today, but further human fragments were recovered and turned over to identification experts who arrived from Washington to aid in attempts to discover how many are missing and who were killed. No official announcement was made as to the number of missing.

Twenty-four of the injured remain in Dover and Morristown hospitals and all are reported doing well.

The Red Cross, through T. R. Buchanan, assistant national director of disaster relief, announced that contributions approximating $18,000 had been received for relief of absolute needs of the refugees and that all would be cashed for.

The time of the first great explosion was fixed at 5:27 by civilian clerks who today for the first time went into the main administration building of the army plant and busied themselves with the preservation of records exposed and strewn about by the blasts.

A clock on the side of the building facing the naval department was found stopped at 5:27, but the timepiece was not damaged by the powerful concussions which tore down part of the structure.

Another small fire was discovered tonight and naval officials said that those lines would be kept in readiness throughout the night for emergency.

Today's visitors to the shell zone included Chairman Green, of the increased imports, due to higher quantitative purchases and some price fluctuations upward, indicated that foreign industries were showing increased activity and that the American purchasing power was expanding along with the demand for foreign-made goods.

Demands for Munition Stores Removal Pressed

(By Associated Press.)

Recurrent munition explosions have given new and forceful impetus to demands from senators and community officials in New Jersey and other States that the army and navy munition stores be moved to the more open sections of the country.

Senator Weller, of Maryland, yesterday asked Secretary Davis to remove the Curtis Bay munition stores, from Baltimore. Added to the same purpose, the Maryland senator urged that the munition stores be moved to the more open sections of the country.

Speaking for the army, Secretary Davis says that he sees no way by which he, under existing circumstances, can comply with the growing demands for relocation of munitions. Secretary Wilbur of the Navy Department is in much the same predicament.

The only solution to the problem, as Secretary Davis sees it, is to await action by Congress. Since it does not reconvene until December it is regarded as virtually certain that no part of the munition stores in Maryland or New Jersey arsenals will be shipped away in the meantime.

Capt. B. H. Clarke's Body Identified in Brooklyn

New York, July 14 (By A. P.).—The body of Capt. Burwell Haydn Clarke, victim of the explosion at the naval depot at Lake Denmark, N. J., was identified tonight.

Physicians at the Brooklyn Naval hospital, where the body was taken after the explosion, said the identification was made by comparison of finger prints and inspection of teeth.

Capt. Clarke was appointed to the marine corps from Little Rock, Ark. Relatives have made arrangements to claim the body.

McLeod Is Prepared To Investigate City

Representative Clarence J. McLeod, of Michigan, a member of the House subcommittee appointed to study and investigate affairs in the District of Columbia, said yesterday that he was prepared to start to work whenever the other members were ready.

Representative McLeod said he was prepared to do his utmost in examining and correcting those conditions in the District which are in need of correction. Among matters the subcommittee might well consider, he said, were the questions of equitable taxation, the franchise for residents of the District and representation in Congress.

NAVAL GROUPS SENT TO FIX LOSS CAUSED BY ARSENAL BLASTS

Court Meets Tomorrow to Determine Damages and Injuries Within Depot.

BOARD TO GET DATA
OUTSIDE RESERVATION

Hearings on Claims May Be Held, Depending on Congress Action.

A naval court of inquiry has been ordered to meet at Lake Denmark, N. J., tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and a naval board of investigation will meet there this morning at the same hour.

The court of inquiry will be composed of Rear Admiral R. E. Conant, president; Capt. Byron A. Long, Commander E. R. Gaylor, members, and Capt. S. C. Brown, judge advocate. Rear Admiral F. R. Harris will be senior member of the board of investigation. Other members are Capt. R. P. Crandall, Commander H. W. Browning, Lieut. Commander Ralph W. McDowell, members, and Lieut. Ira P. Griffen, recorder.

The court will inquire into all the circumstances surrounding the explosions, and its inquiry will be confined to damages to property and injuries sustained by persons within the depot.

The board of investigation will inquire into and report upon personal injuries and property damages suffered by individuals outside the confines of the army and navy ammunition depots at Lake Denmark, and will make an appraisal of the actual property damages, nature and extent of personal injuries suffered by individuals outside the depots' confines. It will estimate the cost of repairs and medical treatment and its report will be limited to facts. A. E. Shoemaker, civilian lawyer of the navy judge advocate general's department, will accompany it as legal adviser.

Appointment of the boards followed a conference of Rear Admiral E. H. Campbell, judge advocate general of the navy, with Attorney General Sargent and Comptroller General McCarl yesterday, regarding adjournment of claims. Hearings on these may be heard in the navy judge advocate general's department, the District court or by the comptroller general's office, depending on the form of legislation covering the adjudication of claims.

Admiral Eberle, acting head of the department, said yesterday that Capt. O. C. Dowling was recovering rapidly. Rear Admiral Harris made an investigation of all buildings on the reservation yesterday, but one from which explosions were still occurring, and made arrangements for housing of marine corps and navy personnel and places for the board and court to meet.

HAMILTON TRIES AGAIN TO BREAK DUKE'S TRUST

Petitions Court to Compel an Accounting of Countess' Bankruptcy Bequest.

PREVIOUS EFFORTS VAIN

New York, July 14 (By A. P.).—Clarence I. Hamilton began another attempt today to scale the legal barriers raised by an English countess to protect her son from the spendthrift nature with which she believed he was endowed.

Two years ago Hamilton won a court judgment for $31,290 from William Angus Drogo Montagu, Duke of Manchester. The duke had no money except what came to him from a "bankruptcy trust fund" of $1,226,000 left him by his mother with the stipulation that none of the money could be used to pay her son's debts, lest it all be dissipated.

Already 66 bankruptcy claims in England against the duke had proved unavailing against this legal barrier and the appellate division of the supreme court also upheld the restrictive clauses of the trust fund.

Last year Hamilton tried again to get his money by demanding a judicial construction of the countess' will, but this effort also failed. Today he filed an application asking that the United States Trust Co. be compelled to file an accounting of receipts and disbursements of the fund in another attempt to find some way to force payment of his bill.

"Old Oaken Bucket" Condemned by Fowler

Samuel Woodworth was a poet of parts but a poor sanitarian, in the judgment of Dr. William C. Fowler, District health officer. In his weekly health bulletin, issued yesterday, Dr. Fowler quoted from "The Old Oaken Bucket" as follows:

"I found it the source of an exquisite pleasure, The purest and sweetest that nature can yield."

Then he adds the foregoing undeniably was good poetry, but should be unqualifiedly condemned as a creed of sanitation. He warned summer resorters to "look to their water supplies," and directed attention to the fact that the health department offers local residents and taxpayers the use of the official laboratory for testing drinking water.

COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE PLAYHOUSES

NATIONAL.

Avery Hopwood, that sly and humorous designer of fast farce, is author of "Fair and Warner" with which the National Players hope to tickle the public's risibilities for the new week commencing next Monday night.

"Fair and Warner" has four central figures, two young married couples. There are others in support, but around this quartet revolves the comedy. Billy likes home life. Laura, his wife, likes the excitement of evenings out and because Billy can't subscribe to this routine she decides it's time to part. Billy seeks advice from Jack, living on the floor above. Jack's the kind of man-about-town type who has a ready-made "frame-up" for Laura which works obtrusively different than it is supposed to.

KEITH'S.

The comedy king, Fred Ardath, probably the greatest "drunk" on stage today, will headline the bill at B. F. Keith's theater for the week of June 18 in a new and different offering entitled "Surprises." The beautiful, gorgeous dancing girl, who will be featured with her four boy friends in "A New Idea and Some Lancers" and Mrs. Norman Phillips will return in "A Family Revue of the Ziegfeld Follies" will be seen here for the first time. Leo Lewis, vaudeville's distinctive entertainer, will again delight with his clever offering, Bert and Dolly Ryan, the world's only ski dancers, will present "Different Dancing." The Great Johnson, the silent comedian, will thrill in mid-air with his hazardous contortionism.

RIALTO.

Another festival of Lon Chaney's first starring productions comes to the Rialto next week. "The Trap," the world's only story of the Canadian woods has Chaney as Gaspard, a French-Canadian trapper, and a man, Bessie, an adventurer, comes into his life, steals his mine and sweetheart and turns him into a human wolf. Step by step Gaspard achieves his revenge. The story has a powerful climax based on a terrific fight between Gaspard and a half-starved wolf, his instrument of revenge. This picture was first released four years ago and at that time ranked as one of the greatest productions of that year. That year stage presentations and other subsidiary features will complete the program.

CENTRAL.

"Silken Shackles," the story of the gay Denise who thought her husband was only a husband, but a poor Hungarian violinist was romance, will be screened as chief feature of the bill to be presented the first two days of next week at Crandall's Central theater, beginning Sunday afternoon at 3. With Irene Roth, Huntley Gordon and Victor Varconi in the principal roles. The comedy will be supplemented by the juvenile members of "Our Gang" in "Buried Treasure" and the bill will be completed by added short-reels and excellent pipe organ music.

On Tuesday of next week, Colleen Moore will be the Central's pictured star in First National's gorgeous film version of the famous musical comedy hit, "Freckles." A tremendously effective style show in natural colors is an added feature.

Lewis & Stone, Shirley Mason, Barbara Bedford, John Patrick and other notables appear in the principal characters of First National's production of "What Pools Men," to be seen at the Central on Wednesday of next week. Bebe Daniels as "The Palm Beach Girl" will be the attraction at the Central on Thursday and Friday of next week. Walter Hiers in "Wireless Lazie" will furnish the additional laughs.

"The Lucky Lady," with Greta Nissen in the title part, will occupy the Central's screen on Saturday of next week.

AMBASSADOR.

Mary Brian heads the capable cast to be seen in the stellar roles of the William Fox production of Peter H. Kyne's "More Pay, Less Work," scheduled as featured photoplay attraction at Crandall's Ambassador theater the first two days of next week, beginning Sunday afternoon at 3. The companion attraction for the first bill of the new week will be supplied by Neal Burns in Christie's two-reel funmaker, "Mr. Wife."

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the Ambassador will offer Marshall Nellie's production of "Wild Oats Lane," released as a Producers Special, with Viola Dana and Robert Agnew in the stellar roles. Mack Sennett's "Circus Today" will be the added laughmaker and the visualized song reel, "Songs of Scotland," will be shown.

Renee Adoree and Conrad Nagel are the centers of Josef von Sternberg's picturization of Alden Brooks' novel of "Escape," to be shown at the Ambassador on Thursday of next week under the title of "The Exquisite Sinister." Lupine Lane will be the filmed comedian in "Time Flies."

On Friday of next week, the Ambassador will screen Reginald Dennis in his latest Universal hit, "Rolling Home." Richard Dix is announced as the Ambassador's star on Saturday of next week in "Say It Again," which will be supplemented by comedy and chapter play.

TIVOLI.

Richard Dix will be the pictured star of the bill announced for the first two days of next week, beginning Sunday afternoon at 3. Crandall's Tivoli theater, in his latest Paramount vehicle, "Say It Again" in this subject, the star is cast as a young American who returns to the scene of his convalescence in Europe after the great war and there finds that his former nurse was, in fact, the queen of a small mountain kingdom.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the Tivoli will offer the William Fox picturization of Peter H. Ryan, the world's only ski dancers, will present "Different Dancing." The Great Johnson, the silent comedian, will thrill in mid-air with his hazardous contortionism.

"Shipwrecked," Producers' thrilling screen version of the stage melodrama of the same name by Langdon McCormick, is announced as foremost Warner drama at the Tivoli on Thursday and Friday of next week with Seena Owen and Joseph Schildkraut in the stellar parts.

On Saturday of next week, the Tivoli will present Bessie Love and William Haines in "Love Mary," which will be supplemented by Sennett comedy, "Sportlight," and the ninth installment of "The Radio Detective."

EARLE.

Another vaudeville treat is in store for patrons of the Earle theater next week, beginning Sunday afternoon at 3, when five superlatively entertaining acts will be presented as the variety portion of the bill, augmented by a sterling feature photoplay, introduced by a new First National star, and the customary screen and musical house features.

The foremost funmakers on next week's bill at the Earle will be O'Donnell and Blair in their sketch of "The Plasterers." Another attraction of the first rank will be contributed by Tom Smith, "An Artist, a Gentleman and a Scholar," who is assisted in the exposition of the wide range of his talents by Harry Newman. Others included in the stage portion of the pastime include the Original Five Honey Boys, black-face singers, dancers and comedians, in an interval of high-pressure diversion; Cecil and Van in unbelievable feats on the wire, and Holland Barry and Troubadours, an elaborate offering unlike any heretofore at the Earle.

The photoplay feature for next week at the Earle will be First National's production of "Senor Daredevil," a spectacular Western drama in which the stellar role is played by a virile young man who is destined to lead his field in the very near future—Ken Maynard.

METROPOLITAN.

The bill being currently shown in Crandall's Metropolitan theater will be continued through next Sunday, July 15, whereupon the house will be closed for a period of two weeks to permit remodeling and rehabilitation, reopening in its refurbished state on Saturday, July 21, for another eight-day week.

The major feature of the present program is Al Christie's exceptionally well adapted screen version of the famous stage farce, "Up in Mabel's Room," originally staged by A. H. Woods. The companion attraction is a superb natural color two-reel romance bearing the title of "The Vision," in which the costellar characters are impersonated by Julianne Johnston and John Roche. The story was suggested by Sir John Millais' painting of "Speak, Speak." A new issue of the Metropolitan World Surveys of the entertainment, the photodramatic portions of the entertainment. The musical program is a notable one.

COLUMBIA.

The alluring Bebe Daniels definitely turns from the frivolous comedy of her recent productions to a vivid, tremendous dramatic role in "Volcano," the William Howard production for Paramount of the famous stage play, "Martinique," by Lawrence Eyre, which is announced as the featured attraction at Loew's Columbia for the week starting next Sunday afternoon, with Ricardo Cortez, Wallace Beery and others in supporting roles.

Few pictures have ever brought to the screen such a powerful dramatic climax as features the production of "Volcano," the eruption of Mount Pelee, the destruction of the city of St. Pierre and the mad rush for safety of the natives, including the two lovers of the story.

The juvenile comedy, "Excess Baggage," International Newsreel, and other short subjects will supplement the bill.

PALACE.

"Variety," produced in Germany by U. F. A. under the direction of E. A. duPont, and featuring Emil Jannings, the world's foremost pantomimist, and Lya de Putli, the captivating Hungarian beauty, who is now appearing in "The Sorrows of Satan," will be given its initial presentation locally as the featured attraction at Loew's Palace for the week starting this afternoon.

Brought from Germany by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and presented in New York without undue advance publicity, "Variety" has already caused a veritable sensation in screen critical circles.

The Palace management has arranged to supplement the feature with a splendid assortment of added subjects, including the hilarious Our Gang comedy, "Thundering Pleas," the Pathe Newsreel, Topics of the Day and Tom Gannon's musicians in a superb melodious embellishment.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH.

The vacation throngs are besieging Chesapeake Beach. Hotels and cottages are filled with pleasure-seekers. Bathing in the salt water is one of the outstanding attractions. Ralph Garren and his Carolinians supply snappy music for dancing on the cool, over-water pavilion. Fishing for trout and hardheads is excellent. Shady picnic groves afford a beautiful setting for luncheon parties. Autolists find ample space for parking. The long boardwalk is lined with a great variety of amusements.

GLEN ECHO PARK.

Washington is a great place for those who can not get out of town on their vacations, because there are so many interesting places within an hour's ride, such as Glen Echo park. The throngs at this resort during the day, as well as at night, indicate that many people are "seeing Washington first" this year, and of course the many amusements at Glen Echo naturally attract. The humming bird, "S" whip, "derby" racer, and dozens of other devices are supplemented by fine grounds for picnickers and other attractions.

COLONIAL BEACH.

For those that delight in the pleasures offered by a seashore resort, Colonial Beach offers practically everything that could be desired for a day's outing, over the week-end holiday or more extended vacation period. It is reached by a delightful 70-mile daylight sail on the historic Potomac aboard the steamer St. Johns with free dancing on the spacious dance deck both to and from the beach. Delightful salt-water bathing, fishing, crabbing, dancing, a long concrete boulevard with a score of features are some of the attractions at Colonial Beach. The steamer St. Johns makes two trips weekly to Colonial Beach, leaving the Seventh street wharf every Saturday at 2:30 p. m. and every Sunday at 9 a. m.

MARSHALL HALL.

The steamer Charles Macalester makes trips daily and Sundays to Marshall Hall, Washington's oldest and one of the most popular down-the-river resorts of fun. On week-days the steamer leaves the Seventh street wharf at 10 a. m., 2:30 and 6:45 p. m.; on Sundays at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 and 6:45 p. m. At Marshall Hall are shady picnic groves with tables, benches and playgrounds for the kiddies, where families can enjoy an outing with meals in the open air. A score or more amusements and riding devices delight both the young and the old.

The New Perfection of the Eight

Never before has any car won such universal acclaim—solely on its own intrinsic merit—as the beautiful Hupmobile Eight.

"Unheralded and unsung"—it was introduced to the American public a year and a half ago.

With astonishing immediacy its first owners emphatically asserted it to be the finest car in America. Other hundreds promptly enrolled themselves in the ranks of Hupmobile Eight enthusiasts.

And then came a startling general awakening to the fact that those first Hupmobile Eight owners were but asserting the truth—Hupmobile Eight was in fact the finest car in America.

Expert engineers of competitive manufacturers conceded it was impossible to find a standard for comparison with the Hupmobile Eight—except in a certain expensive hand-made product of distinguished Italian manufacture.

And the whole industry sought to find the answer to—the reasons for—this amazing achievement. It is simple enough—to anyone who has had an opportunity to peer behind the scenes.

Hupmobile Eight is the attainment of an ideal, conceived twenty years ago—an ideal which Hupmobile has been ceaselessly striving to materialize.

Twenty years ago—when the industry was young—certain members of the Hupmobile organization discovered that the combination of two four-cylinder motors laid end to end gave more power and greater smoothness than had ever theretofore been experienced.

That straight-eight broke all existing speed records.

The men who built it were convinced of the correctness of the principle.

They determined to develop the perfect application of that principle—and to place that perfected straight-eight within the reach of the greatest possible number.

And, ever since, Hupmobile was pursuing its unwavering course toward the attainment of that ideal.

Two years ago the ideal materialized. Hupmobile had overcome all eight-cylinder limitations—had in fact perfected the straight-eight.

The public has witnessed the most positive of all demonstrations of the endurance and speed of the straight-eight, where this type, year after year, has won the 500 mile race on the Indianapolis Speedway. It has discovered the Hupmobile Eight and acclaimed its superiority far beyond Hupmobile's most ardent aspirations.

It has learned that the Eight possesses in an enhanced degree all the virtues of the most costly cars of other types, at a price which immeasurably broadens the eight-cylinder market.

It has perceived that no expense has been spared to make the Eight the ultimate in fine cars—no less in beauty of body and fittings than in performing and riding luxury.

Yet—because manufacturing possibilities have been heretofore merely surface-scratched—Hupmobile is able to place the Eight within the reach of the thousands whose motor-car investment approximates $2500.

A new principle in motor lubrication

Engineers solve an old problem with a new and different
"STANDARD" MOTOR OIL

ROAD TESTS

Ford

In a 609-mile road test on a Ford run from Sept. 24 to Oct. 22, 1925, the new "Standard" Motor Oil showed a substantial decrease in both oil and gas consumption.

12.8% increase in oil mileage
 12.3% increase in gas mileage

And the driver could actually feel a difference in the operation of his car—improved pulling, snappier pickup, elimination of the drag which the motor had previously shown on hills and the removal of the carbon which had been in the motor when the new oil was put in.

See future advertisements for data on tests with other makes of cars and trucks

Mack

Tested on the road from Sept. 24 to Oct. 22, 1925, for 3,779 miles in a big AC Mack Truck, the new "Standard" Motor Oil showed splendid results:

19.5% increase in oil mileage
 20.9% increase in gas mileage
 Less friction
 Cooler motor Increased power
 Less motor drag

Other Mack motors tested for carbon deposit demonstrated that the new "Standard" Motor Oil removed existing carbon and deposited none itself.

THE Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) has developed an oil which embodies an entirely new principle in motor lubrication.

"Standard" Motor Oil eliminates the possibility of dry spots on the cylinder walls—a failing which has always been present in even the best of the old type oils.

This irregular or spotty lubrication has baffled engineers ever since the perfection of the internal combustion engine. With many other motor oils, if the motor stands idle for a day or a week, there occurs the possibility of dry spots or a film too thin for complete protection. Even when the motor is running there are often areas where there is no fluid film of oil whatever. Then there occurs that grinding of metal on metal which results in scoring of the cylinder walls. Because there is little or no seal between the piston and cylinder walls, gasoline is forced through into the crank-case oil. Dilution results, with a consequent lessening of the lubricating value of the oil.

When this absence of a complete piston seal persists, there is resultant lack of power—the car doesn't climb hills well; it misbehaves at low speeds in high gear; the motor heats up; heavy deposits of carbon are formed; gasoline and oil consumption increases. The best of the old type oils could not correct this condition.

An oilier oil that will "stay put"

The problem was to find an oil that would cling to metal surfaces so thoroughly as to abolish the areas of partial lubrication. It must not be an oil of too heavy a grade. It must be, in fact, an oil of greater oiliness. And that is exactly what "Standard" Motor Oil is.

For more than three years the Standard Oil chemists and engineers experimented with this new "Standard" Motor Oil which, if successful, would mean more to the motorist than any recent advance in the automotive industry.

The first tests proved that "Standard" Motor Oil would withstand a far heavier load before breaking down than any of the leading oils of the old type. This showed its lubricating superiority.

Ordinary oil tends to drop away from metal surfaces if long left standing, causing period of friction at each new start of motor. New "Standard" Motor Oil of same weight and consistency possesses greater "factor of oiliness." It "stays put." Note larger oilier drops.

Power tests came next. It was found that the lower friction losses and the better piston seal caused a gain of 3% to 5% in power when motors were lubricated with "Standard" Motor Oil. In cases where motors were in poor condition, the increase in power often ran up to 10%.

Road tests on scores of cars showed startling improvements in hill-climbing ability when cars were lubricated with "Standard" Motor Oil. They showed gains in gasoline miles-per-gallon from 5% to 20%, depending upon the make and condition of the car.

Amazing results can be verified with your own car

It was found that motors ran cooler, there was less crank-case dilution, and carburetors could be adjusted for leaner mixtures.

These tests have covered more than three years' time and some of the results have run quite beyond the original expectations.

It may seem almost incredible that a lubricating oil can produce such improvements in car operation.

But trying is believing, and many motorists report that they can actually "feel the difference" while driving.

"Standard" Motor Oil is on sale now at "Standard" Service Stations and at dealers, in Medium, Heavy and Heavy X grades.

A Quarter a Quart

7 Advantages found only in "Standard" Motor Oil

- 1 Constant lubrication—film on metal surfaces.
- 2 Frictionless operation, in a practical sense, even upon starting after idleness.
- 3 Less "breaking down" under load or at high speeds.
- 4 More miles per quart of oil and less crank-case dilution.
- 5 Better hill climbing and smoother operation in high gear at low speeds.
- 6 Negligible carbon, clean motor and clean sparkplugs.
- 7 Actual saving in gasoline, with or without carburetor adjustment.

CARBON

Remarkable demonstration when you drain out your oil

In addition to its other virtues, this new "Standard" Motor Oil is extremely effective in cleaning cylinder walls, piston heads and even spark plugs. Its black color after the first filling has been drawn off shows that it removes existing carbon. Drive 300 miles with the new oil—then drain your crank-case. Having dislodged this objectionable material you will want to get rid of it.

Second filling procedure

Having filled up the second time with "Standard" Motor Oil it is unnecessary to refill oftener than every 500 miles, or at your usual draining intervals. Needless to say, after the second filling, little or no carbon will form. If any deposit is made it can be easily removed.

Premier de Rivera, of Spain,
Escapes Radicals' Notice; Is Luncheon Guest.

Paris, July 14 (By A. P.).—Bastille day, always notable as a national holiday, was doubly so today by reason of the presence of the Sultan of Morocco, Mulay Youssef, and Gen. Primo de Rivera, premier and virtual dictator of Spain.

Parisians never witnessed a more colorful review of France's military forces, for every arm of the service was represented. There were picturesque contingents from Tunis, Algeria and Morocco, native Tirailleurs, Senegalese zouaves, Moroccan cavalry of the French army, the personal guard of the sultan and a company of the foreign legion.

President Doumergue, with the Spanish and Moroccan dignitaries by his side, and surrounded by Ambassadors, ministers and high officials of state watched the review at the Arc de Triomphe from the presidential stand. Gen. Gouraud, military governor of France, led the parade as it made its way through the avenues to the Arc de Triomphe. The sultan occupied a seat with President Doumergue in a green automobile, which was guarded by cuirassiers. All the way along cheering and whistling, calls of various kinds, and in some instances, hooting, greeted the passage.

But the demonstration against the sultan, which had been feared, did not come to pass. Nor were the communists and other radical elements able to carry out their proposed demonstration against the Spanish premier, who had proceeded to the arc some time before the presidential party.

After the ceremony at the arc, the two distinguished guests of the nation attended a luncheon at the Elysee palace, at which felicitation were exchanged. President Doumergue declared that owing to France's efforts, calm reigned in all parts of the Moroccan empire and that France intended to develop the economic and social life of Morocco.

In replying, Mulay Youssef said: "We have gratitude for France as protector of Morocco in the work of civilization and progress. She has accomplished for the benefit of the people of that country."

Americans Celebrate
French Bastille Day

The tricolor of France flew with the Stars and Stripes from many public buildings yesterday in honor of the "Bastille day," anniversary of the taking of the famous prison and a French national holiday.

President Coolidge sent the following telegram to President Gaston Doumergue of France:

"On the occasion of the anniversary of the birth of the Republic of France I take great pleasure in extending to you my sincere congratulations and the assurance of my heartfelt wish that the traditional bonds of friendship which unite our two countries may steadily strengthen."

Women Have Dinner
Honoring Bastille's Fall

France was honored at a dinner given by the business and professional section of the Women's City club at the clubhouse last night. The dinner took the form of a celebration of the fall of the Bastille.

Miss Maude Alton told of the work of the Americanization school here. Other speeches were by Dr. Helen M. Strong chairman of the section; Miss Kathleen Michaels, Miss Katherine Spillan, Miss Hazel Junie, Miss Merrill, Miss Laura Berrian and Miss Carrie Byron. Miss Byron presented three of her music pupils from Eastern High school, and they gave selections. Miss Carolina V. Sudler was toastmistress.

Test Shows Midocean Landing Field Possible

Philadelphia, July 14 (By A. P.).—A seadrome, or landing field for airplanes in midocean, was put through a series of tests in a make-believe ocean today by Edward R. Armstrong, chief research engineer for the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co. The demonstration convinced him, he said, that his theory of placing a number of floating and anchored landing fields across the Atlantic ocean on which transatlantic planes may alight, was sound and within the realm of probability.

WOMEN IN CONVENTION DEADLOCK OVER DUES

Federation Members, After Heated Debate, Lay Aside
Business for Pleasure.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 14 (By A. P.).—The question of dues, whether they should be $2 annual, $1, or nothing, deadlocked the national convention of the Federation of Women today and after a few hours of fruitless debate, the delegates finally laid legislative matters aside and embarked upon a pleasure jaunt to Ames, where the afternoon and evening were passed inspecting Iowa State's college.

The difficulty arose when it was proposed to increase federation dues to $2 for each member to raise a fund to support the Independent Woman, a magazine published by the organization. Opponents of the increase declared that only a small proportion of the 46,000 members now receive the publication.

Another subject that was pushed into the background was the question of endorsing legislative proposals of national scope, including the child labor amendment, the Senate's World Court action, a Federal department of education headed by a cabinet member and a Federal employment service.

Diversified endeavors of the delegates were reflected in vocational meetings.

Honeymooners Arrive Only

Held by Another.

Winsted, Conn., July 14 (By A. P.).—A honeymoon couple are barred from their lake shore bungalow here by a woman who says the bridegroom promised to marry her. Mrs. Marian Heming, of Hartford, has barricaded herself in the house. She declares the bridegroom, Louis S. Griffing, of Hartford, promised to marry her and to give her the bungalow.

Griffing has cut off the water supply, has boarded up the windows and has disconnected the telephone, but Mrs. Heming has laid in provisions and has declared her intention of "holding the fort."

Griffing married a Springfield, Mass., woman June 26. It was when the bridal couple arrived at the cottage on their honeymoon that they found Mrs. Heming in possession.

ROMANCE OF HAREM TOLD IN ORDER FOR HAROLD M'CORMICK

Man Who Married Sultan's Daughter Seeks Her Alleged Property.

CALLS WIFE, NOW DEAD,
ENVER PASHA'S WIDOW

Petition Asserts She Left Valuables in the Care of Chicagoan.

Special to The Washington Post.
New York, July 14.—A brief of romance from the harem of a Turkish sultan came today into the prosaic precincts of the surrogate's court. It came via a mere bit of legal paper—the granting of an order requiring Harold F. McCormick, Chicago capitalist, to appear for examination on October 19 in connection with discovery proceedings brought by Sidney Berman.

Berman, according to her husband's attorney, Jonah J. Goldstein, is the daughter of Sultan Mohammed VI of Turkey, and the former wife of Enver Pasha, minister of war of that country.

Escaped From Harem.
She escaped from the harem after her husband's death and came to this country, where she sought out McCormick, said to be an old friend of her mother—and the mother was a woman no less remarkable than the daughter, according to affidavits in the case.

The complaint filed by Berman asserts his belief that Mrs. Berman left much valuable property in the Chicago home of McCormick—trunks and luggage, shares of stock and bonds of the International Harvester Co., deeds and title papers to land in Turkey, bonds of a Spanish steamship line and strange and beautiful Oriental jewels. McCormick, the complaint continues, "Withheld the same from this petitioner and refused to impart knowledge or information he may have concerning same or to disclose any other facts which will aid your petitioner in making discovery of such property."

Berman asks that the wealthy Chicagoan be directed by the court to reveal the extent of property left by Mrs. Berman, who on her marriage license wrote herself down as "Princess Ziska Zahube Sultana."

Rich in Own Right.

According to Goldstein, Mrs. Berman was wealthy in her own right, having inherited the estate of her mother, the Sultan's wife. Berman and the princess were introduced to each other by friends in this city and were married at Bayside, L. I., ten days later, October 2, 1921.

The bride told her husband a regular Arabian Nights story of intrigue, forced marriage, kidnapping and murder. Her mother, Dolores Braganza, also known as Carmen Sylvia, was kidnapped by Mohammed VI and forced to marry him after two weeks of torture, according to an affidavit made by Berman.

In her turn the daughter, known as Carmen Sylvia, was married against her will to Enver Pasha in 1907.

According to Goldstein, McCormick established a $10,000 trust fund for the daughter's benefit.

Enver Pasha was killed at Bokhara in 1922. Less than a year later Mohammed VI met his death in Paris, four years after his wife died. And in this country, their daughter died less than two years after she was married to Berman. He refused to discuss her or the case.

Vancouver, B. C., July 14 (By A. P.).—Benito Pasalo, 54-year-old Porto Rican, and Alexander De Bortoli were executed on the gallows at Oakalla prison here today. Last minute efforts to get the sentences commuted failed. The men were sentenced to death for the murder of two women.

Danish Dish

Copenhagen, July 14 (By A. P.). Food is a very serious affair to most Danes. A meal to a Dane is little short of a ritual, and a meal to him generally means a heavy meal. Every Danish woman from the queen to the sempstress, is capable of preparing wholesome and tasty dishes and none would dream of marrying without a thorough and practical knowledge of cooking.

The recipe for preparing roast Saerlimer med Rodkaal, the national dish, follows:

Take a nice leg of pork; score the skin across in narrow strips about one-quarter inch apart, rub with salt and place in a good brick oven. A leg weighing 10 lbs. must roast four hours and without basting if the crackling is desired crisp. The gravy is thickened with a little flour and made a deep brown and served with plain boiled potatoes and hot boiled red cabbage. The red cabbage is cut in very thin slices. In a saucepan (not an iron one) melt a lump of butter or lard, add a pinch of salt, 2 spoonfuls of vinegar, then add the cabbage and let simmer for 3 or 4 hours; the last hour minus the lid when the ingredients should be well stirred.

Before serving add more butter, salt and vinegar to taste. A little red-currant or cherry juice also improves the flavor. Many cooks add a little bicarbonate of soda, or a few peeled and sliced apples with the idea of making the cabbage more digestible.

Home Efficiency Service

WE should have in our larger very nearly sufficient material for our evening meal as a result of our Tuesday shopping expedition. With the things that were suggested for that shopping day in mind we have planned our menu for tonight, or for tomorrow night if the fish dish is more acceptable on Friday. If this main dish is to be used tomorrow rather than today, chops or steak may be substituted in this menu, and other vegetables of almost any order purchased for tomorrow as it is doubtful whether what we have on hand can be extended over so long a period.

The vegetable, rather one of the vegetables, that we have planned for this menu will possibly be new to many of us. If it is not familiar I say that it is well worth trying for it is delicious. We refer to creamed cucumbers. Simple to prepare, nourishing because of the accompanying cream sauce, and exceedingly appetizing, the dish will be well worth filing with our recipes.

The time for our next contest draws near, for it is to be in order from Tuesday, July 20, to Tuesday, August 3, and the results will be announced on Tuesday, August 10. This contest, chosen from a multitude of suggestions that have come from our friends in regard to it, is to be a contest of entrees, or if you prefer side dishes that may be served as accompaniments for summer salads, or a main luncheon dish. Any type dish may be sent in, creamed dishes, leftover dishes, dishes consisting of meats or meat substitutes, cheese delicacies and many others. It is to be a contest offering a wide range in the variety of recipes that may be submitted, and we anticipate that when the contest shall have come to a close we shall have many delightful things to share with friends of our column. The rules governing our contest will appear as usual with the column each time, and they will, also as before, be few and simple.

Beatrice Lillie Lady Peel

ON THE STAGE Beatrice Lillie is the delightfully talented star of Charlot's Revue, which for two years has so successfully invaded America. In private life she is Lady Peel, wife of Sir Robert Peel, descendant of the great English statesman of the same name in the first half of the nineteenth century.

This is what Lady Peel says about one of her experiences in America:

"When I came to this country I did not know what the popular drink was. Soon after my arrival I was offered a glass of Clicquot Club Pale Dry Ginger Ale. I liked it immediately. It has such a delicate taste and such a jolly sparkle. Between the acts and after the theatre I find it particularly welcome. Clicquot Club is indeed one more thing I like about America."

Two flavors You can now get Clicquot Club Ginger Ale in two flavors. The new Pale Dry Clicquot is very delicate and subtle in taste. The Golden Clicquot is more gingery, a particularly invigorating drink—for a generation the most popular of all bottled beverages, the nation over. Clicquot Club Ginger Ale, noted for its high quality, also gives more generous quantity and at a very reasonable price. The Clicquot Club Company, Millis, Massachusetts.

WIVES OF TOMORROW

By FRANCES McDONALD

We Are Accused.

DEAR MISS McDONALD: Usually I agree with your philosophy of life, but I am disappointed to discover that you tacitly condone, if not openly sanction, the present-day tendency to degeneracy in young women.

By the position you take you are missing the golden opportunity which your position as moral adviser gives you of doing constructive work in character building.

Recently a young girl sought your advice. She shamelessly admitted making a practice of kissing a young man whom she fancied she loved but was not sure. You advised her concerning the problem on which she sought guidance but by your silence sanctioned her kissing a man whose offer of marriage she had as yet refused to accept.

On another occasion a young man sought your advice relative to the wisdom of marrying a girl who kissed him the first time he asked her. You ridicule him for assuming her chastity, and assert that he is making a mountain out of a mole-hill and you thereby put yourself on record as a champion of this vulgar practice, although you say it is vulgar.

I know in theory that a double moral standard is inconsistent and I make no pretense of defending it, but I also know that both men and women have recognized such a standard from time immemorial. It would indeed be a blessing if the moral standard for men could be improved, but it will be a sad day for society when this double standard of morals is destroyed, if it is brought about by woman stooping to man's level.

I am not posing as a champion of man's degeneracy, but I do decry any encouragement to lower the high moral standard which was once the measure for sweetheart, wife and mother.

Ninety-nine men out of 100 view the problem just as I view it.

It is a strange thing to me that girls and women have never learned that the more privileges they allow a man the less respect he has for them.

The girl who permits kisses, as a lure to win a man, thwarts the object she expects to gain. When a girl indulges in ardent petting most men construe the concession as an invitation to "go as far as you like," and act accordingly.

If I should ever become such a consummate fool as to marry a girl whom I knew was in the habit of necking with Tom, Dick and Harry, I would not be surprised to discover that I had married a woman without morals or decency, and most of the men who will marry in this decadent generation will marry just that kind. Are you doing right in upholding the vulgarities practiced today by your sex? F. S. J.

If I could believe it vulgar for a girl to grant a kiss to a man awaiting her promise to be his wife, I should not uphold the practice. But having a fairly healthy mind, and a comparatively comprehensive experience with life, I can not endorse the theory that a kiss between two young people contemplating a life journey together is vulgar—or anything but right, natural—and inevitable. As to the man who begged for a kiss, then questioned the fitness of the girl to be his wife when she granted it! To me he and all men of his particular stripe must continue to be a joke.

Perhaps I am wrong. Will the readers kindly tell me if I am?

Conduct and Common Sense

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR BEHAVIOR AT GAMES.

By Anne Singleton.

TO show good temper, if possible, but at any rate self-control, is one of the best rules. Fair-dealing is taken for granted and generosity in regard to a rival is considered essential. Overeagerness to claim a victory is annoying, but too much hesitancy is equally so. Overconfidence in yourself and constant criticism of your neighbors is offensive. Team-play is difficult for such individuals as we are today, but it is admirable training, and the enforced subordination of our most brilliant efforts to the good of the side we are supporting is the best sort of discipline. Endurance, courage, quickness, both of decision and action, are qualities to be striven for, but if we have them we must never appear too conscious of them.

It is good manners not to make too many excuses for bad play; not to give too much advice; not to be put up with by winning, or cast down by losing. Women, when playing men's games, should not expect to be much waited upon; that is, they should as far as their strength permits play on an equality with men. They should dress without fussiness (though it is by no means necessary to emulate men's attire) and never stop to make-up their faces on the golf course or in the tennis court. Nothing looks sillier than to see a woman using a lipstick and touching herself up with the aid of her vanity bag mirror in the middle of a game. A bit of powder is the utmost that taste allows her in the sporting world of fashion; and even that should be applied in a rough-and-ready manner.

BEAUTY AND YOU

DANGER POINTS IN MAKE-UP

By Viola Paris.

A GREAT deal is told us about the cosmetics that we should use on our faces, but there are many of you who would be much better served if we knew a little more about how—and how not—to use them.

Any one who studies different make-ups is immediately impressed by the fact that the average woman, after she has carefully applied powder and rouge, is satisfied with merely rimming her lips with lipstick and letting it go at that, with the result that the lipstick shows plainly and is often uneven. The lipstick should be carefully selected for its shade, with consideration for the tone of the complexion as well as the color scheme of the costume. The rouge should be applied fairly far in on the lips, so no demarcation line of color shows when the mouth is opened, and, finally, every hint of it should be removed from the outer rim of the lip. It is a good plan to keep a fine, soft cloth in the make-up drawer for just this purpose of removing traces of lipstick that may stray beyond their proper bounds. On the corners of the mouth, it is scarcely necessary to apply any rouge at all.

Bright pink and dead white face powders are both deadly errors in make-up. They give the skin an unnatural appearance and do not harmonize with any rouge. Delicate flesh and rachel tones, with perhaps a little dash of mauve or yellow for evening—depending upon whether you are a blonde or a brunette—are the most generally satisfactory shades in powder.

Then there is the matter of applying rouge on the cheeks smoothly and evenly—probably one of the most difficult feats of make-up. If powder or rouge is used, a separate powder-puff may be kept to dust a light film of powder over the rouge and soften it into the tone of the skin. If you use paste rouge, see that it is soft and that you blend it naturally with a dusting of powder on top. If the rouge is liquid, it should be applied with damp cotton or with the finger-tip while the skin is moist with a few drops of water or astringent. Just a little liquid rouge is sufficient, and it should be carefully smoothed into the cheeks before it dries. Rouge should always give the impression of a fading blush rather than a feverish spot.

Tomorrow Viola Paris will tell you how to subdue a too frizzy hair wave.

THE PERFECT GOLFER.

He was indeed a sportsman true. His face a smile of friendship wore, His ball was on the green in two And down in four.

He took no practice swings while I Was set to drive upon the tee. The short hole found his shot pin high And down in three.

He drove and never cursed his luck. The ball was straight and true and far, Later that musical ker-chuck Gave him a par.

Calm, courteous, thoughtful on he played

A high example for us all. Never a downright dub he made Or topped his ball.

He never sobbed in deep remorse Or tried to win by wily tricks. He smiled his way around the course In seventy-six.

TUBERCULOSIS VACCINATION.

IN February of this year Calmette and his associates told the French academy of their progress in vaccinating children and lower animals against tuberculosis. Dr. Calmette is one of the oldest and most prominent of the students of Pasteur. Not only has he been a member of the Pasteur Institute staff for a generation, but he was a worker there in the days when Pasteur himself was alive and active in the research carried on in the institute. In those early days Calmette took consumption in man and animals as his life work. All of his scientific life has been devoted to finding a method of vaccinating against tuberculosis.

The particular method he is now using he began working on just 21 years ago. Six years ago he was certain enough of his ground to write a book on the subject. Since then he has reported progress at least twice a year. His method consists in growing virulent tubercle bacilli obtained from cows, on culture media, which contains bile. After being grown on this medium for a long time the bacilli become incapable of causing tuberculosis, or of doing harm in any way. At the same time they are capable of immunizing animals against tuberculosis. The immunization can be done either by an injection or by feeding the bacilli by mouth.

Calmette and Guérin and associates report that they have vaccinated 5,183 babies. Of these 1,317 were first vaccinated more than 18 months before the report was made. These babies were of tuberculosis mothers and lived in homes where the exposure to tuberculosis was constant. Only 2 per cent of them have developed tuberculosis. Twenty-four per cent of unvaccinated children under similar circumstances would have become tuberculous. The babies were vaccinated within a few days of life. The vaccine was fed them in milk.

Details of the method of vaccinating are given in the Annals of the Pasteur Institute for February, 1926. None of the babies were in any way harmed by the vaccination. Calmette says, so far as he can say now, vaccination should be repeated once a year, at least throughout the years of childhood. However, experience with monkeys shows that vaccination once every three years is often enough with those animals. In time it may be found to be frequent enough with humans. The vaccination of grown people is not advised unless possibly it be those who do not give a negative reaction with tuberculin.

MEASLES ARE CONTAGIOUS.

Mrs. J. B. writes:

1. Are measles contagious? 2. Where there are several children in a family, would all of them be liable to get it? 3. Is it proper in a case like this for the other children of the family to go to school?

REPLY.

1. Yes. Highly contagious. 2. Yes, provided none had had measles. 3. Yes, if they are excluded from the sickroom. In a well-run school the other children would be examined daily for early symptoms of measles, especially during the second week after exposure.

MORE PNEUMONIA AMONG MEN.

L. G. writes: In a recent article you said that there are five pneumonia cases among men to one among women. 2. Is this due in any way to the clothing? Is man's tight collar and stove pipe outfit the "garb of death?"

REPLY.

1. I didn't say that. Men have more pneumonia than women, but not five times as much. 2. Clothing is of minor importance from the standpoint of pneumonia. The stove pipe hat and the tight collar have enough to answer for without being charged with crimes of which they are not guilty. They were both invented by men who wanted some easily recognized sign to indicate that the wearers were parasites. That is what underlies the custom of wearing them now. That ought to be enough to say against them.

Pony, 28 Years Old, Polo Medal Winner

Chicago, July 14 (By A. P.).—A 28-year-old pony, Skinny, which has played polo every season since 1906, heads the list of 74 winners of annual medals awarded for the best membership in the United States Polo association.

Three more of the ponies receiving the medals for the 1925 season were more than sixteen years old, and more than half of them were over seven years old. The youngest was five.

Before he sold Skinny to D. L. McCarthy, of the Toronto Polo club, Maj. Gen. McBrien frequently used to ride him through four chukkers. Mr. McCarthy has played him regularly since he bought him.

PEOPLE OF MONTENEGRO LEAD MONOTONOUS LIFE

Cettinje, Capital, Scene of "Merry Widow," Retains Its Old Beauty.

MOUNTAIN LIFE IS HARD

Cettinje, Montenegro, July 14 (By A. P.).—While all the other capitals of Europe have been growing at a rapid pace, Cettinje, once the stronghold of King Nicholas' picturesque Montenegro kingdom, has slumbered in an atmosphere of medievalism and oriental self-complacency.

Situated in the heart of the "Black Mountain" district, the natives live the same precarious, monotonous lives they did centuries ago when they fled from the Turks.

But the "littlest of Europe's capitals" still retains all that color, romance, animation and oriental fascination which gave Franz Lehár the Austrian composer, his inspiration for writing "The Merry Widow." The spot where he wrote that lively operetta is still pointed out to visitors. The great oak tree under which the redoubtable King Nicholas carried on the affairs of state and collected tribute from his subjects still stands, the object of intense curiosity by all tourists.

The inclusion of Montenegro in the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes while conferring many benefits on the hardy mountaineers, has changed the outward aspects of Cettinje but little. In a country which is made up largely of rock and barren soil, life is given only to the sure, the strong and the swift.

In many cases the Montenegrin pitches his modest stone hut high up among the crags where the eagle makes its nest. One American visitor characterized Montenegro as a "land of tombstones." Left to itself, the country would starve, for such small arable land areas as exist produce only about one-third the population's food requirements. The rest must come from the outside.

Yet in this primitive, poverty-ridden land, women do all the work. It is an adage as old as the country itself that "man is the warrior, and woman the worker."

Man's sole duty is to defend the home and his family's honor with firearms. The women age prematurely under the ceaseless burden of work, and few of them live beyond 50.

England's English Better, Says Envoy

Tokyo, July 14 (By A. P.).—Sir John Tilley, British Ambassador to Japan, is in disagreement with certain American savants regarding the comparative quality of "English as she is spoke" on either side of the Atlantic.

He informed students of a Tokyo graduating class that "with all respect to our American friends," the proper place to learn the language is in England, "where the language was formed."

While England's English is not to be compared to America's English, Sir John said, continued friendship between Great Britain, America and Japan is absolutely necessary for the general welfare of the world.

Women's Lives

are relieved of a great hygienic handicap in this way. Positive protection—discards like tissue

THERE is now a new way in woman's hygiene. A way scientific and exquisite that ends the uncertainty of old-time "sanitary pads." It is called "KOTEX." Eight in one—better—clean women have adopted it.

You wear sheer frocks and gowns without a second thought, any time, anywhere. You meet every day, every business or social demand unhandicapped.

NO LAUNDRY Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment. Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads, it banishes danger of mishaps.

Deodorizes, too. And thus ends ALL fear of offending.

You obtain it at drug or department stores simply by saying "KOTEX." Women thus ask for it without hesitancy. Costs only a few cents for a package of 12.

GEORGE DE BRODES SANE, FACES MURDER CHARGE

Jury Holds Alleged Matricide of Sound Mind, Despite Lunacy Commitment.

FOUR OTHERS ARE FREED

George de Brodes, former employee of the American embassy at Paris, France, under indictment for the alleged murder of his mother, Mrs. Frances G. de Brodes, was found to be of sound mind yesterday by a jury in criminal court before Justice Adolph A. Hoehling. De Brodes was adjudged insane shortly after the death of his mother in June, 1923. He made a futile attempt last fall to be adjudged sane, so that he could be tried on the murder indictment.

He is an epileptic, and according to the alienists at the government hospital for the insane, he had an epileptic fit just before the fatal shooting of his mother. He will be transferred from the hospital to the jail to be tried on the murder indictment. The jury found him sane in spite of the testimony of government alienists that his condition was worse now than when he was first committed to the hospital. Attorneys Wilton J. Lambert and Godfrey L. Munter and Austin F. Canfield appeared for De Brodes.

Justice Hoehling ordered the release from St. Elizabeth's hospital of four patients who were being held as insane without what the court considered proper authority. They were Maj. Robert W. Shufeldt, army medical corps, retired, and John E. Collins, Bernard L. Boelscher and Joseph P. Morris.

Divorce Denied Wife Whose Mate Reweds

Mrs. Ellen J. Dunn, former wife of William E. Dunn, of Kansas City, Mo., is not entitled to an absolute divorce from him, according to a decree signed yesterday in equity court by Justice James F. Smith. Dunn divorced the plaintiff at Kansas City on March 23, 1922, and is now living there with his second wife, Mrs. Lydia B. Eaton Dunn. The latter was named codefendant in the divorce action of the plaintiff.

Justice Smith found that neither Dunn nor his second wife were residents of the District and that no proof that they were living together unlawfully had been offered, although the plaintiff charged that she had no knowledge of the divorce action in Kansas City. Attorney Charles E. Wainwright appeared for Dunn and his wife.

CLARENDON PARLEY INFORMED PHILLIPS WILL BE ENGINEER

Supervisors Have Not Thought of Appointing Anybody Else, Ingram Says.

COOPERATION IS URGED ON ARLINGTON COUNTY

Sections Must Put Aside Feeling, Ball Tells Lyon Village Meeting.

ARLINGTON COUNTY
BUREAU OF THE POST,
Tel. Claz. 302. Clarendon, Va.

Assurance of the appointment of Asa E. Phillips, of Washington, as the engineer in charge of the installation of Arlington county's water system, was given by Chairman William J. Ingram, at a meeting last night in the Clarendon Citizens hall.

The meeting was called by H. C.
Saffell, chairman of the Arlington county water commission, who stated, "that his purpose in calling the meeting was to find out just what was being done, that the citizens, a month ago, voted by a heavy majority for water, and he was being asked why the delay.
Contracts with the Federal government have to be drawn and can not be drawn until the engineer is appointed." To put any other man in as engineer, after the people of this county, by their vote, showed their absolute confidence in Mr.
Phillips, would be a serious mistake, declared Mr. Saffell.

Mr. Phillips said he did not think there had been any unnecessary delay. It takes time for a contract to be drawn. That contract is now in the hands of the Commonwealth attorney's hands and will be ready for the board of supervisors at their meeting July 23.

"It is true I have given a great deal of time to this project, and I am greatly interested in seeing the work done as it should be," said
Mr. Phillips. The success of the entire project depends largely upon the engineer, and his hands should in no way be tied. As far as the salary is concerned, I am perfectly willing to leave that up to the board of supervisors of Arlington county.
All I want is to see the county get a system that she should have."

William J. Ingram, chairman of the water board, speaking for two members of the board of supervisors, said:

"I will say that there never has been a time when there was a thought of appointing any one but Asa E. Phillips as the engineer.
There has been no unnecessary delay. It takes time. This is a big job and we must go slowly. There were attempts made at the last meeting of the supervisors looking to the appointment of a committee to select the engineer. We need no committee. Mr. Phillips is the only man I know of that can do this job."

The meeting closed with a unanimous vote of confidence in Mr.
Phillips and in the board of supervisors.

Despite the cloudy weather several hundred citizens attended the opening of the seventeenth annual carnival of the Cherrydale fire department at the school grounds last night. With hundreds of colored lights the carnival opened with a band concert by the Maywood Merry Makers.

State Senator Frank L. Ball, the principal speaker at the meeting of the Lyon Village Citizens association last night in the offices of Lyon & Fitch, speaking on cooperation, said:

"All that Arlington county needs today is more cooperation between the various sections. Put aside this petty sectional feeling and the county will grow more rapidly.
Three bond issues within the last few years have failed, due to feeling in different sections. The discussion regarding the location of the Lee boulevard is not helping Arlington county. The business interests of Washington have their eyes on this county, and with the proper cooperation it has a greater future than any county in the State. Another thing this county needs is a more uniform laying out of the streets."

SISTER IDENTIFIES BODY OF SLAIN BOSTON GIRL

Disembodied Remains Those of Edith Green, Former Hospital Attendant.

YOUNG MAN IS SOUGHT

Boston, July 14 (By A. P.)—
The disembodied body found in the Mattapan section yesterday was identified tonight as that of Edith Green, 20 years old, a State ward and until recently an attendant at the Boston Psychopathic hospital.

Identification was made by a young woman who said she was the dead girl's sister.

Hospital officials said that the girl worked there as a cleaner and that previous to coming there she had worked as a cashier. In her references she gave no names of relatives. Identification was made by Bessie Landry, a fellow employee at the hospital.

It was learned that Miss Green had been a State ward since childhood and was one of three children.
The police were told that she had left the hospital because of her condition. She hired a room in the Roxbury section July 3 and left her belongings there, and that same night a young man called for her and took her away with him. She was never again seen alive.

The name of the man is known to the police, they say, and they were searching for him tonight.
They learned that on July 3 he took out marriage intentions for himself and Miss Green, but as far as could be discovered the marriage was not performed.

The case had been pronounced that of an illegal operation, and search was in progress also for the surgeon suspected of operating on her.

The police visited the home of William J. Ford in South Boston and took him and his brother and father to the morgue for questioning.

ORDERS WHITEMORE HANGED ON AUGUST 13

Gov. Ritchie Signs Warrant;
Slayer's Wife Moves for Clemency.

Baltimore, Md., July 14 (By A.
P.)—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie today signed the death warrant for Richard Reese Whittemore, bandit and slayer of a Maryland penitentiary guard. The governor designated Friday, August 13, as the execution date.

Mrs. Margaret Whittemore, the condemned man's wife, announced she had obtained 2,000 signatures to a petition for clemency, and appeared sanguine today that the State's chief executive might yet be moved to stay the execution.

Whittemore killed Robert H.

Holtman when he escaped from Maryland penitentiary on February 20, 1925. He was found guilty of first degree murder by a criminal court jury on May 21, last, and sentenced by Judge Eugene O'Dunne to be hanged. The supreme bench of Baltimore and finally the Maryland court of appeals denied him a new trial.

BOOKER COMPANY READY

By F. W. PATTERSON.

The International Bank, not a bank of deposit, is enjoying a healthy and conservative growth as indicated by the fourteenth semi-annual statement, which will be presented to its stockholders today, and which shows the institution to be equipped with ample resources, extensive connections and experienced personnel for the conduct of its affairs.

The bank is distributing today approximately $60,000 in dividend checks of $5 a share, covering the first half of 1926, at the rate of $2.50 for each quarter.

John R. Waller, president of the bank, believes the future of Washington and calls attention of the shareholders to the remarkable number of organizations which have recently established their headquarters here. The total is now in excess of 400. He also points out a constantly increasing number of people, attracted by the advantages of the National Capital, are taking up residence here.

"Local building activity has been increasing rapidly," says Mr. Waller, "and indications are that the current year will exceed the $50,000,000 average of the last few years. In addition the government construction program for the next five years will exceed $100,000,000. The International Bank will share in the general prosperity incident to the development."

Open for Business Today.

Y. E. Booker & Co., recently organized by Y. E. Booker and George H. Myers, formerly of Crane, Parris & Co., to conduct a general investment, banking and brokerage business, will open its offices today at 1508 H street northwest.

The offices of this newest banking and investment firm are ideally arranged for the conduct of such a business, with customers' rooms, large reception hall and private offices. That the financial district welcomes this firm to its midst was evident yesterday, when numerous floral gifts from banks, investment houses and friends of members of the firm, began to arrive to be followed today by others.

Associated with the firm as cashier and office manager will be Harry W. Finney, formerly with Crane, Parris & Co., and Miles H. Quail and Muriel Ellis, who will also be connected with the staff.

The new firm will enjoy the privileges of the Washington Stock Exchange through the membership held by Mr. Booker.

Delegates Give Banquet.

Delegates from the Washington chapter to the American Institute of Banking convention now in session at Dallas, Tex., are coming in for much attention, according to reports received from convention headquarters, and reciprocated last night by giving a banquet in the Hotel Banker for women delegates to the gathering.

A dispatch received from Dallas advised that "Speeches by national officers and other notables, and conferences in the afternoon all proved interesting. Dallas police ordered to arrest all delegates not having a good time. Weather cooler than in Washington."

The Washington delegation includes William G. Winstead, Miss S. W. Burwell, H. H. Darnelle, Miss Esther R. Lau, Miss Lois A. White, A. E. Henze, A. W. Sherman, H. F. Kimball, G. M. Van Hoesen, Joseph D. Yerkes, H. W. Dennison and T. Hunter Smith, president of the local chapter.

Slim Dealings on Exchange.

While dealing was slim on the Washington Stock Exchange yesterday, stock movement of stocks as took place continued to be interesting with the general price trend upward.

Potomac Electric Power preferred came out with a gain of 1/2 and sold in two lots of 5 shares each, at 108 1/2. A similar gain was recorded by the Interim certificates which sold to the extent of but a single share at 106 1/2. Washington Railway & Electric preferred was 1/4 easier on a turnover of two odd shares, the sale being marked up at 88 1/2.

Continental Trust gained 3/4, to 31, with fifteen shares changing hands, while Riggs National Bank stock unchanged at 46 1/2. National Mortgage and Investment preferred picked up to 8 3/4 on sales of 100 shares.

The bond side of the market was quiet, with a single sale of Washington Gas Light 6s, smaller denomination, at 103, and Washington Railway and Electric 4s sold at 82 1/2.

Dividend Is Declared.

Directors of the Union Finance Co. yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on the outstanding preferred shares, and 10 cents shares on the common stock, payable July 20 to stockholders of record June 30.

W. M. Ward, president of this company, reported the continued growth of the business, which is confined to the purchase of real estate mortgages on Washington

TROUBLE IS BREWING IN CUBA AS RESULT OF SENATE INQUIRY

Barlow's other claim concerns land which was once submerged but is now in the geographical center of the city of Havana. His right of possession was established by the Cuban courts, he declares, before a wealthy Cuban named Gomez laid claim to it. Mena took possession on three different occasions, but each time the courts forced him off the land and sustained Barlow's right of possession. But then, according to Barlow, Mena organized a corporation and turned over his alleged title to it, after Cuban congressmen were made officers of the corporation. The corporation then took possession and the courts decided, according to Barlow, that they were powerless to interfere with members of the Cuban congress.

Meanwhile, according to Barlow, new complications arose. Barlow's man on the land was charged with insulting a Cuban policeman. It was also discovered that in one of Barlow's attorney had reproduced an article from one of the Havana newspapers which Gomez Mena regarded as insulting to him. A warrant was sworn out for Barlow's arrest, and the lower court decided in favor of Gomez Mena, according to the claimant.

Land Claimed By Barlow.

Barlow's other claim concerns land which was once submerged but is now in the geographical center of the city of Havana. His right of possession was established by the Cuban courts, he declares, before a wealthy Cuban named Gomez laid claim to it. Mena took possession on three different occasions, but each time the courts forced him off the land and sustained Barlow's right of possession. But then, according to Barlow, Mena organized a corporation and turned over his alleged title to it, after Cuban congressmen were made officers of the corporation. The corporation then took possession and the courts decided, according to Barlow, that they were powerless to interfere with members of the Cuban congress.

Meanwhile, according to Barlow, new complications arose. Barlow's man on the land was charged with insulting a Cuban policeman. It was also discovered that in one of Barlow's attorney had reproduced an article from one of the Havana newspapers which Gomez Mena regarded as insulting to him. A warrant was sworn out for Barlow's arrest, and the lower court decided in favor of Gomez Mena, according to the claimant.

Signs Criminal Register Daily.

The case is now pending on appeal, and Barlow has to report to the criminal court every Monday morning, he says, and sign the criminal register. He says he has been in court upward of a hundred times and the case is postponed until September. The Cuban government in its reply to Secretary Kellogg's August note is understood to have stated that certain criminal actions against Barlow must first be disposed of before the merits of his claim can be considered.

Meanwhile, Barlow decided to come to Washington on his own behalf, but when he reached here he was informed, according to his own statements, that he was to be arrested as a fugitive from justice. Accordingly, he returned posthaste to Havana.

In Alfred Betancourt's case, he had a suit pending which was seized by the government, according to his claim. The lower court decided against him and the higher court decided in his favor. He now has the court decision entitling him to damages of more than $1,000,000, and there the matter rests, according to his statement. No suggestion of enforcing the court's decision is forthcoming. In the case of this claimant, as in other cases, it is stated that Cuban officials do not permit court decrees to be carried out if it is not to their interest to do so.

Finds House Torn Down.

Walter Fletcher Smith, representing the American Chamber of Commerce in Havana, owned property on the Mariano beach seven years ago and was living on it, according to his claim. He returned one day to find his house torn down, his furniture thrown out and the minister of public works in possession. The government, the claimant says, decided that it wanted the property as part of an amusement resort. The lower court, the supreme court even, decided that the minister of public works had no right to take possession of his property. Smith states, but there is means of getting the court decrees enforced.

Charles J. Harrah, another American citizen, had a railroad built under permit by the Cuban government, and used for hauling sand between Havana and Mariano. He contends his road was destroyed, concrete bridges, &c., blown up without warrant, and he brought property, and advised that comfortable additions had been made to surplus and undivided profits.

Iowa Issue Offers Today.

Further financing for Iowa Southern Utilities Co. is announced for today in the offering by Highland, Allum & Co., Inc., and W. C. Langley & Co., of an additional issue of $1,100,000 first and refunding mortgage 5 1/2 per cent gold bonds, series of 1926. The bonds mature July 1, 1950, and are priced at 97 1/2 and interest, to yield about 5.70 per cent.

suit against the minister of public works. The lower court certified the suit to the intermediate court and it was finally certified to the Cuban congress, this body deciding that the minister of public works was a government official and could not be sued. All this is based on Harrah's own statement. A loss of more than $1,000,000 is claimed by this American citizen.

Become Political Issues.

There are many other claims that the foregoing serve as examples. Usually, in these claim cases there are two sides and the versions put forward by the claimants must be taken with a grain of salt until the other side has been heard from. Furthermore, the patent processes followed by the State Department in these matters are often the most effective in the long run.

But in the present cases, the intervention of the Senate has focused attention on particular claims and practically made them political issues overnight. In other words, the Senate has intervened and become a bill collecting agency for Uncle Sam, which role the State Department has usually sought to avoid, at least until diplomatic relations for amicable adjustment have been exhausted.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT GIVEN ROBERT SCOTT

Scott crept up behind Maurer and fired the fatal shot with his pistol 6 inches away from the youth's body. The judge severely criticized "organizations formed to protect Russell Scott from his just punishment."

Russell Scott twice has escaped the death penalty. In the same court room in which Robert was sentenced today Russell a year ago pleaded guilty and was sentenced to death. His attorney obtained permission to change his plea and a jury trial resulted in another death sentence. That was evaded when another jury found Russell insane. After incarceration in the State prison for the criminal insane, Russell recently was brought back and another jury found him sane. It was then he was sentenced to be hanged October 15.

Robert Scott was found a few months ago in the California State penitentiary serving under the alias John Redding.

Robert Scott evaded a jury trial today by agreeing to take the witness stand and be asked one question concerning the slaying and any Judge Gemmill wished to ask regarding his life history. "Did you fire the fatal shot?" brought a reply of "No, your honor."

49 BANKS IN GEORGIA CLOSE IN THREE DAYS

Bank of Chalmers, the Alma State Bank, the Bank of Leesburg and the Commercial Bank of Dallas. Two banks closed Monday, the Bank of Abbeville and the Farmers and Traders Bank, Atlanta.

The State banking department issued a statement tonight ascribing the closing of 49 banks in Georgia this week, to the embarrassment of the Bankers Trust Co., a corporation not under the control of the department, and for which a receivership was designated today.

Commenting upon the closing of the banks the statement described the general condition of banking in the State stronger than "it has been since the period of deflation following the war."

"The closing of a number of banks has not been due to local conditions," the statement declared.

NICKEL PLATE PLANS FOR MERGER CHANGED

Van Sweringens Explain Revisions to Pere Marquette Committee.

New York, July 14 (By A. P.).—After reporting progress in negotiations with the Van Sweringens interests to obtain better terms for the Pere Marquette railway in the projected Nickel Plate merger, a subcommittee of Pere Marquette directors today adjourned its sessions until Friday, when it is hoped a final agreement will be reached.

The Van Sweringens at two conferences with the Pere Marquette representatives explained their revised merger plan and were presented with a counterproposal asking more liberal treatment for all classes of Pere Marquette stock. Indications point to adoption of a compromise plan which will then be placed before the Pere Marquette's board of directors for final action.

Army Uses Ear Tabs To Tell Twins Apart

Tokyo, July 14 (By A. P.).—Feature for feature, inch for inch and ounce for ounce, Kazuo Kaneko and Tsuguo Kaneko, twins, are so much alike that even their parents were unable to distinguish between them. In voice, manners, likes and dislikes they were duplicates. Called to the colors, recently, the examining officers could find no identifying marks, so were forced to affix marks to their ear lobes so that commanding officers might know to which one they were giving orders.

NEW OFFERINGS TAKEN

New York, July 14 (By A. P.)—Reactionary tendencies predominated in the bond market today, reflecting the recent tightening of time money conditions. Prices of virtually all domestic corporation issues worked lower, but some foreign obligations and most of the United States government bonds moved counter to the general trend.

The possibility of virtual financial dictatorship in France and Belgium strengthened these bonds, which had already responded to the favorable aspects of the Anglo-French debt funding agreement. French government 7 1/2 and 8 1/2, and the Paris-Lyon-Mediterranean 7s were exceptionally strong. German issues also retained their popularity, the Agricultural Bank 7s crossing par for the first time.

The downward drift of domestic bond prices was especially noticeable in the public utility and commodity railroad groups. Losses of a point or more were recorded by the St. Paul 4s and 4 1/2s, Duluth, South Shore 5s, Illinois Central 5s, Georgia & Alabama 5s, National Railways of Mexico 5s, Metropolitan Edison 5s, Consumers Power 5s, Federal Light & Traction 5s and Corn Products 5s. Brisk bidding developed for Kansas Gas & Electric issues, while Rogers Brown 7s sold nearly 7 points higher on a single transaction.

The initial reaction of Liberty and Treasury bonds to the upward revision of money rates apparently placed the prices of these issues at levels which were attractive to investors. Several large buying orders were placed today and the bonds regained virtually all of the ground recently lost.

Two important bond offerings—$10,000,000 for the Toho Electric Power Co. of Japan, and $7,500,000 for the Pan American Petroleum Co.—were quickly oversubscribed. Approximately $5,500,000 of new financing has been arranged for the Commodore-Labaree Corporation, a consolidation of Western four mills, and public offerings of both notes and bonds will be made later this week.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, July 14 (By A. P.)—Unusual power to absorb selling material today and prices were building at the close. High temperatures Northwest and possible rain in the West developed particular notice. Closing quotations were unsettled at 1/2 to 1/4 cents advance, with corn withering from 1/2 cent decline to 1/4 cent gain, oats unchanged to 1/4 cent advance. A small amount of wheat was sold in the market today. Profit-taking sales broadened out whenever values began to climb, but the market broke in the wheat pit. # NATS LOSE TO CHISOX AND DROP BACK TO FIFTH

Light Heavies Ready for Battle

Delaney Is Favorite in Meeting With Berlenbach.

Half Million Dollar Gate Is Expected by Fugazy.

NEW YORK, July 14 (By A. P.).—Paul Berlenbach, world light-heavyweight champion, enters the ring in the most important fight of his career at Ebbets field tomorrow night, when he faces Jack Delaney in defense of his crown. The match is scheduled for 15 rounds to a decision.

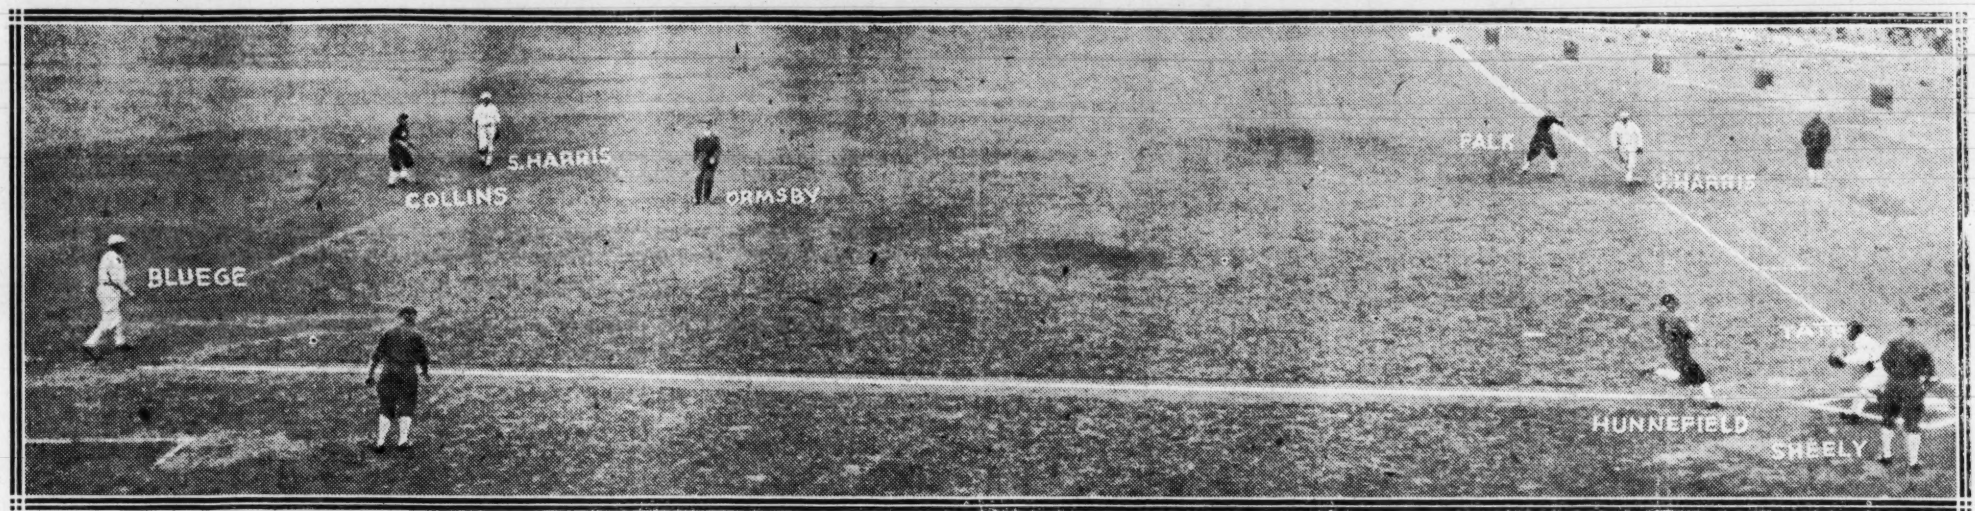

Ring critics have made the Bridgeport challenger a headline favorite, contending Delaney's boxing ability and his tremendous punching power should be more than a match for Berlenbach's crushing left hand. The champion, however, has his backers, several selecting him to retain the crown by a decision.

Delaney expects to win as decisively as in the first meeting, when he stopped Berlenbach in the fourth round after the latter had chalked up a series of 23 consecutive knockouts in amateur and professional bouts.

Their second meeting, December 11, 1925, resulted in a decision for Berlenbach in 15 rounds.

THE two principals completed their training activities today, both taking

THERE WAS PLENTY OF ACTION CROWDED IN YESTERDAY'S GAME BETWEEN THE NATIONALS AND WHITE SOX, BUT ONLY THAT OF THE VISITORS MEANT anything. They scored their ten runs in three clusters of three, with a single one thrown in for good measure. Their first stand came in the opening round, the picture below showing them tallying their first marker and setting the stage for the two which followed. In it Hunnefeld is seen crossing the plate, Collins rounding second and Falk first on the latter's single, which followed a walk and Bluege's fumble of Eddie's easy hopper. Both the Sox pilot and his left-fielder later registered.

Collins' Lads Win Easily, 10 to 2

Harrismen Fail to Hit Faber and Field Poorly.

Sox Jump Into Early Lead and Nats Never Have a Chance.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

THE rarified atmosphere of the lofty third-place peak did not seem to agree with our Nats, who reached these heights only Tuesday, for the White Sox, by beating them yesterday, 10 to 2, before they could get acclimated, knocked them back again to the fifth rung of the ladder. It was simply a case of too much Red Faber. He drew the pitching assignment for the visitors, and as a general proposition had them eating out of his hand.

Harris started Stanley Coveleskie and later sent Willard Morrell to the pole's relief. This pair granted but five more safeties than the Nats garnered from Red's offerings. The Chicago hits, however, had timeliness. Most of them were well-kissed blows, while several of the home hits were most scratchy. That and the fact that the Harrismen were not in a fielding mood accounts for the relative difference in the run-coining of the two outfits.

FOR a time it looked as though the contest would be rained out, but after a half-hour delay the teams took the field. Only the visitors seemed to realize that play had started. They took a three-run lead in the opening session, duplicated this stand in both the fourth and sixth and called it a day by adding another useless run in the ninth.

The locals were never in the running, and but for errors by Faber's supporting cast would have scored but once. There was no delay on the part of the visitors when they went to the post. With one down, Hunnefeld coaxed a pass and then followed in the order named an error by Bluege, singles by Falk and Sheely, another miscue, this time by J. Harris, an out and a single by Schalk. On the latter's clout a fourth runner's life was snuffed out at the plate.

In the fourth the Sox got busy again. Faber, who helped himself to victory with two hits, led off with a single, and Mostil's triple. Hunnefeld's one-baser and a boot by Stan Harris made the aliens 6 up. Morrell toed the slab from the fifth on, and after retiring Collins' team in order in one frame he, too, was called on to absorb a little

Helen Wills Plans to Wait In Her Pursuit of Lenglen

NEW YORK, July 14 (By A. P.).—Helen Wills, America's queen of the courts, will wait two years before undertaking another foreign invasion, in the hope of conquering her French rival, Suzanne Lenglen.

Coupled with that announcement by the national champion upon her return from Europe today with other members of the Wightman cup team came word from Miss Wills that she will begin practice Friday with a view of defending her title late next month at Forest Hills, N. Y. Interrupted in her European campaign a little more than a month ago by an operation for appendicitis, the champion said she was "feeling fine" and expected to

Yanks Down Tigers In 12-Inning Contest

New York, July 14 (By A. P.). The Yankees' sensational ninth-inning rally, in which five runs were scored after two were out, tying the count, featured their twelve-inning victory over Detroit today, 7 to 6. Whitehill held New York to three hits for eight innings, but retired under fire in the ninth, being replaced by Daus. A triple by Gehrig drove Ruth home from first base in the twelfth with the winning run. Koehn had opened the session with a single and Ruth forced him.

Reds Increase Lead By Defeating Phils

Cincinnati, July 14 (By A. P.). With Pittsburgh dropping (two games), Cincinnati increased its lead by beating Philadelphia, 5 to 1. It was the third straight victory over the Phillies and was due to pounding Carlson hard in the first three innings. Carl Mays held the visitors except in the sixth, when Williams tripled and scored on Wrightstone's single.

Hip Injury Puts Muddy Ruel On the Shelf for a Few Days

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

PRESIDENT CLARK GRIFFITH and Scout Joe Engel left yesterday morning for their much-heralded "ivory hunt," which is expected to give the Nats the makings of another pennant winner in 1927 and to possibly bolster them up so as to make them real contenders in the present chase.

While the scouting party has many indefinite plans, and many guesses have been made as to what they are about, the only thing which the Old Fox admitted before he left the Capital City was that he would not come back empty handed.

His first stop will be at Memphis, where the Birmingham team is playing, and Griffith did not deny that he was after Pitcher Crowder, who performed well while with the Pirates, but wiggled out of their clutches through a technicality.

It was rumored here yesterday that Pitcher Crowder likely would figure in a deal for this rookie, but Manager Harris stated yesterday that he rated the sheik highly and that, if he was slated to go, it was news to him.

Catcher Muddy Ruel, who of late has blossomed out as one of the Nats' most timely hitters, will be out of the line-up for a few days because of a badly bruised hip. Tate subbed for him yesterday and is expected to be behind the plate until the regular is ready to resume his duties. The former Chick is a hustling lad and getting a chance to do a little catching in games may bring him out considerably.

WALTER JOHNSON or Curley Ogden will do the pitching against the White Sox this afternoon in the contest which will decide which of these teams gets the edge in the three-game set. It all depends upon what the weather man has to offer. If it turns hot, Ogden will get the call, for

Harris does not want to shoot

Barney back a day ahead of his usual turn with a heat handicap besides. Ted Blankenship is expected to toil for the visitors.

The Nats did a lot of smoking yesterday on Walter Johnson, who "set 'em up" in honor of a brand new addition to his family. Mrs.

Johnson gave birth to a 7½-pound

FORECLOSURE LEAFY CHICAGO RACE

at Ottawa.

Selections Gave Six
Winners Out of Seven Tuesday.

By BERT E. COLLYER.

GOOD THINGS.
Looks like Old Blind Tom could sneak a few winners out at Chicago. Small entries prevail and the "mob" should not make any mistakes. Before the afternoon is over most of the spectators will fancy that they have been witnessing a regatta.

FORECLOSURE is the hot female Molly of the day. The Bedwell youngster goes in the sixth heat. Members of the paddock brigade will form in line when the horses go to the post in order to be sure and have their tickets cashed before the start.

MYRA M. is the real article for the opener. This is where the "reese" are slaughtered properly. The second is not so easy, but should the "game" select GOLDEN TOP, he can deliver the goods. APPELLATE is the hot rock for the third and the parlay boys will shoot it all back on FERGUSON in the fourth. This one is due to awaken. PAK PRINCE in the fifth and POLVO in the closing dash are supposed good things.

Over in Canada the Devonshire meeting is at an end and the fields at Ottawa are small in a majority of the events. The chief of good news is JEAN CRIST alone as his hotly toy. This one goes in the final handicap, feature race of the day, and should get the money.

Six winners out of the seven races was the record of the chief Tuesday showing a record of 100 per cent. HILL MCBRE is the choice for the opener, while HEIR AT LAW seems best in the second. For the third, HANKY RICE has only to run to bank form to get home in front. MILN KYLE appears best for the fifth. SEA FAIRY is the real thing for the sixth and CONSCRIPT should deliver in the seventh.

At Raceland BARN DOLLAR, who is selling silks in the sixth race, seems the safest proposition of the afternoon.

Over at Maple Heights, CORHAM, which will start in the second race, is seemingly a stand-out performer. Yeweklum from first race—Myra M. Members of the Washington Athletics are requested to meet at the corner of Eleventh and M streets northwest tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, from which point they will proceed to Shenandoah, Va., to oppose the N. & W. team of that city in a three-game series over Friday and Saturday.

punishment, the Sox clustering another trio in the sixth. All of these were earned, behind a drive from Mostil's safe but, singles by Hunnefeld and Collins and Falk's triple, which counted a pair. Then Bill became peeved and retired the next three, with Bill impatiently pawing on the third cushion.

Two were out when the final run was manufactured by the visitors in their final turn at the plate. Then Schalk doubled and Faber singled him home.

MEANWHILE the Nats had been busy doing nothing at all with the flop. They were out in the first frame, but managed to turn successive scratch hits by Myer and Goslin into a run in the fifth, when Hunnefeld fumbled Tate's grounder.

Washington's other run was earned. It was coined in the lucky frame from one-basers off the bats of Goslin and Rogers, and J. Harris' out had advanced the Goose a base. Morrell scratched a safe one after Tate had lined to Hunnefeld, but it helped nothing but Bill's batting average.

HELEN WILLIS READY FOR PLAY ONCE MORE

resume tournament competition August 2 in the annual invitation event at Seabright, N. J.

THE California girl, whose thrilling tennis duel with Mlle. Lenglen last February at Cannes attracted worldwide interest, was unwilling to venture an opinion as to whether she could defeat the French star in a return engagement.

But Mary K. Browne, Wightman team captain, frankly admitted Suzanne was to be "a most wonderful player—the best in the world today."

Miss Browne, who twice was defeated by Suzanne, tempered that admission by an expression of confidence in Miss Willis, asserting the latter "would have done exceptionally well against Lenglen at Wimbledon." Players must complete a match before Queen Mary at Wimbledon and her subsequent withdrawal from the tournament.

She said she did not believe, however, that the champion ought to attempt to defeat her crown this year. "If she does, it may be a real health," the Wightman team captain continued.

MISS WILLIS was generous to Mlle. Lenglen in her explanation of the latter's delay in appearing for a match before Queen Mary at Wimbledon and her subsequent withdrawal from the tournament.

Maintaining that the episodes were due to an eccentric turn, Miss Willis declared that she was declaring that "she must have been ill."

She amplified this remark by admitting that Mlle. Lenglen plays "awfully well"—there's nothing eccentric in her steady game."

Other members of the returning party, which included Elizabeth Ryan, Eleanor Goss, Mrs. Marion Ruth dropping to the place in the league standing among the star-smiths. Bib Falk, Sox outfielder, took the lead by getting two, a triple, off the slants of Coveleskie and Morrell. Harry Hellmann, of the Tigers, hopped into the second hole.

By failing to hit safely in five trips to the plate yesterday, Babe Ruth dropped to the place in the league standing among the star-smiths. Bib Falk, Sox outfielder, took the lead by getting two, a triple, off the slants of Coveleskie and Morrell. Harry Hellmann, of the Tigers, hopped into the second hole.

BEG YOUR PARDON

The account of the boxing show at Kenilworth appearing in yesterday's Post, credited Larry Goldberg with victory in his fight with Paul Olsen. The fight was stopped after the first round to save Goldberg. Healy was the winner.

Typos Play Eastport; Roudabush With Team

The Union Printers will visit Eastport this Sunday for a game that will get under way at 3 p. m. Last year the Typos were victorious and the home team will be out for revenge.

Newby Catlin, who has been turning in stellar games for Eastport, will probably get the pitching assignment. Manager Webb will call on his ace, Hutchinson, to do the flogging, with himself and Simons in reserve.

Gladstone Roudabush, who has been suffering from a broken hip, will visit the Printers today for a workout and probably will be used in several games before the Webbsmen enroute for St. Louis.

baseball who later starred in the Coast league, worked out with the Boston Red Sox, and was later given up the game but could not resist Bucky's invitation to put on a uniform and take a workout.

Eddie Collins, pilot of the White Sox, seems to have lost faith in his superstition about removing his chewing gum from the button on his cap when two strikes are called on him. Twice yesterday the fans waited for him to take it off but he fooled them.

It calls for some "monkey business" in connection with the conducting of the orchestra, followed by some of their stunts on the stage. Al admits that it may be a great act.

BIG SUNDAY PROGRAM OF 15 GAMES IS ARRANGED

Capital City Lists Busy
Sabbath15 Battles Scheduled by Diamond Body in 3 Classes.Sections A and B to Meet at The Post
Tomorrow.

THE Arlington county teams complete play for their championship series, which started last Sunday, at a meeting held last night at The Washington Post building, and decided not to affiliate with the Capital City baseball league, which has already started its season, with three sections competing.

Walter Haight, secretary of the Capital City baseball league, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Arlington county series, and will decide all protests.

The teams decided to use Capital City association umpires, and with few exceptions adopted rules similar to those used in the C. C. B. L.

With the entrance last night of the Hume Spring team, eight clubs were assured, with four playing fields. Franchise money and eligibility lists must be turned in by Saturday night at 7 o'clock.

The schedule for Sunday follows: Virginia White Sox at Ballston; Addison at Glencliff; Fort Myer vs. Cherrylee, Lyon Village field; Hartford at Hume Spring.

SECTIONS A and B, of the Capital City league, will meet at The Washington Post building tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Several important matters will be brought up which demand the appearance of all managers.

With fifteen games scheduled for Sunday in the ranks of the Capital City baseball league's unlimited, junior and minor divisions, the day should afford a filling meal to those fans who thrive on the sandlot variety of diamond activity.

While interest is most likely to center in Section A, of the unlimited class, where the eight local "big guns" operate, each of the games has a neighborhood following which should spur rivalry to a high pitch.

Cherry Chase versus the Knickerbockers in the Georgetown Hollow in the only Section A game to be played in the District. Both winners in the league's debut last Sunday, the contest should wax into a supreme struggle.

Two of the other games are scheduled on Maryland diamond, while Virginia gets the third. Mount Rainier enters the Maryland A. C., its old Prince Georges county rival, while St. Joseph, conqueror of Maryland last week, invades Marlboro.

AT Arlington the home club encounters the Shamrocks, which is one of the most popular battles staged on the Virginia field. The Harps take the visitors in an early season battle, and Arlington would like nothing better than to break into the victory column at the expense of the Southeast nine.

Section B, unlimited class, offers a neat layout of three games. In some circles it is said that the race lies between the Rialto club and the Anacostia Eagle teams. At any rate, those clubs are due to battle on the Kenilworth diamond.

The entire unlimited card gets under way at 3 o'clock.

BOXING SHOW OFF.

BOBBY JONES GIVES HIS FIRST AND ONLY LESSON ON GOLF

O. B. Keeler, golf writer for the Atlanta Journal and known as Bobby Jones' Boswell, obtained for the Associated Press the following interview with the world's golf champion, which is the only interview which Jones says he has ever given out or probably ever will give out. The interview was obtained in response to a request from the general manager of the Associated Press to John S. Cohen, editor of the Atlanta Journal, who was asked that Jones be quoted from the point of view of a master stylist on how to play the game. The interview is copyrighted by the Associated Press.

The Associated Press. ATLANTA, Ga., July 14.—Bobby Jones, open golf champion of America and Great Britain, all at the same time, is a difficult boy to interview. But that is not because he is the first official golfing champion of the world. It is because he is one of the most modest boys in the world. It required a good deal of convincing to get him to play, and very likely his last, formal interview on golf. I told him the greatest press associations believed that many people would like to hear from him, in his own words, how he played golf—the "master style"—and how he won championships. Bobby at last blushed and gave in.

"All right," he said. "Where do we start?"

"Where you started golf," I suggested. "How did you get your game?"

"Luck," he answered succinctly. "The biggest piece of golfing luck I ever had was when the Atlanta Athletic club got Stewart Maiden for its professional. I was 5 years old then and lived opposite the gate of the East Lake course. Next year Dad moved our family into a little cottage on the club property, alongside what is now the first fairway. I had taken up golf in a small way with a sawed-off club, and the East Lake players had given me. Stewart never gave me any lessons. I just followed him around and watched him. I wanted to play golf, and he was the best player about the club, and I imitated his style. Like a monkey, I suppose."

"THE luck was in the fact that Stewart had the finest and soundest style I have ever seen. Naturally, I did not know that at the time. But I grew up swinging like him in the last few years. I've changed a good deal in some ways. My build is not like Stewart's, you know."

"You're fatter," I suggested. Bobby's ears reddened.

"Never mind that. I'm not as fat as I was when I got off the Aquila ten days ago. I lost twelve pounds those three days at Scioto, and I'm not fat, anyhow. As I was saying, I don't swing just like Stewart today, but that was the foundation, and I can go out on a golf course any time and swing exactly like him. He has a sound and orthodox style."

I asked what he meant by orthodox.

"In golf I should say it was a style, which would suit me mentally any player unless he was anatomically freakish. There is nothing odd or unusual about Stewart's methods."

"And yours?"

"Well, at times my methods seem unusually hard to get along with. Maybe I haven't helped the original style by changing it. Anyway, I can't help believing that is the best way to acquire a sound game—imitation of a good player in childhood, take some lessons, a good professional can work out a style that will suit you if you will do what he says."

The subject of style characteristics came up. Bobby now being unusually regarded as the glass of fashion and the mold of form in golf. Bobby did not want to talk about this phase. I insisted.

Well, judging by the pictures I see of myself," he admitted, "I keep my feet closer together in the full shots than almost anybody else in the world and keep my hands lower and closer to my knickers in addressing the ball. My arms do seem to get far away from my body in the back swing, and I suppose this is what they mean in saying my style is compact."

"MY stance is very slightly open for all shots except the putt; that is, the left foot is a bit farther back from the line of the right than the right foot. I do not regard this as important. Sometimes I play shots with my toes level, and I know fine players who employ a very open stance and others with a square stance—the toes level—and still others with a closed stance, the right foot being drawn back."

The main point in my stance, as I understand it, is to play the ball with the heel in all normal full shots and in most normal full shots for distance. Two or three years ago I was getting into a lot of trouble, pulling and pushing, and I was not getting the ball straight back toward the line of the right heel. I play many full shots and irons, when a full flight with much backspin is needed, and between my feet or even toward the right heel. "But to get a normal, well-behaved shot with a full swing, I have found that the place for the ball is best, it is opposite the left heel. Mind you, I don't say this is right for everybody. But it certainly is Stewart's method for practically all shots and he even plays the ball as far as I think as opposite the left heel as he can get. I keep the weight well back of the stroke. When it gets in front anything can happen and usually does."

I asked about hands, arms and grip.

"I never think about my hands. The regular overlapping or Vardon grip seems to take care of that phase pretty well. I think that grip is best. If your hands are reasonably big and strong. The little finger of the right hand overlaps the forefinger of the left, the left thumb being buried under the right palm; a very compact grip which tends to keep the hands from working against each other save in the proper way."

"The club is held strictly in the fingers rather than delicately. Don't squeeze it. I can spool a shot any time by tightening my grip consciously. I use the same grip for every shot I down to the putt, where I reverse it."

"THE putt is essentially a right-hand stroke, and the right hand is on the shaft and overlap the right little finger with the forefinger. I take the putter back with the left hand and stroke the ball with the right. It has worked very well at times, as at Marion and Oakland, and not so well on this last trip. I putted like an old woman that last round in the British open. Thirty-nine putts—it was terrible."

Bobby needs only 31 or 32 putts in his average round of championship play and his first round at St. Annas he used only 29. Thus, his winning card of 74 in the last round of the British open, with 39 putts and only 35 other strokes in it, was a wonderful business and nerve-racking.

"The left arm should be kept straight on the back swing and through every shot until the ball has been struck, except the putt. Of course, I mean my left arm is kept straight and I think the bending of that arm tends to make a chop instead of swing, and here is a point I am just learning. The left hand should be regarded as the master in the swing. I'm not sure it really is, but I think so."

"I know the right hand provides the punch, or most of it. But if I get to thinking about the right hand, or ignoring the left, the right hand is not nervous at all kinds of trouble results. By regarding the left as in control, I can get a sort of 'feel' in the stroke; and the right, no matter how ignored, comes in at the proper juncture. I remember when I was those rounds of 66 and 68, qualifying for the British open, I felt as if I were literally making the shot with my left hand. It seemed I could not get it right. I felt as if I full wood shots and in most normal full shots for distance. Two or three years ago I was getting into a lot of trouble, pulling and pushing, and I was not getting the ball straight back toward the line of the right heel. I play many full shots and irons, when a full flight with much backspin is needed, and between my feet or even toward the right heel. "But to get a normal, well-behaved shot with a full swing, I have found that the place for the ball is best, it is opposite the left heel. Mind you, I don't say this is right for everybody. But it certainly is Stewart's method for practically all shots and he even plays the ball as far as I think as opposite the left heel as he can get. I keep the weight well back of the stroke. When it gets in front anything can happen and usually does."

"I do not think nervousness hurts my game. The more nervous I am the better I play, usually. I suppose it means being keyed up. I suppose the sleepiest rounds I have had were when I was nervous at all. I do not seem to be conscious of it during a round. Afterward, well, I know something has been done to me. I sort of collect the things I did wrong, after getting back to the hotel. I was all in."

"This was after shooting the last twelve holes of the final round two strokes better than par. Apparently the killing strain did not affect his game detrimentally."

"I've an idea," said Bobby suddenly. "If I think this habit of my concentration straight through the round is a mistake, for me, anyway. If I walk along like an Indian, concentrating desperately on the next shot, with an eighth of a mile to walk before reaching the hole, I feel sort of fagged in my head when I stand up to the shot. Lately I have found out a word or two with the man I am walking with, or the referee, or maybe some friend in the gallery relieves the tension. ## Gallatin Gateway

New Route opens to # YELLOWSTONE

THE thrill of discovery is yours if you pass through Gallatin Gateway this summer! Virgin wilderness of Gallatin Forest, where wolf, bear, elk, mountain lion, sheep and goat still range freely!

Gallatin Gateway is the only entrance to Yellowstone connecting directly with the main line of a transcontinental railroad. Commencing August 1st, motor-coaches of the Yellowstone Park Transportation Company will meet Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul trains at Three Forks, Montana—the source of the mighty Missouri River.

The trail sweeps across lovely Gallatin Valley, with the blue barrier of Ranger Mountains, Gallatin Range and Spanish Peaks lining the horizon. Along Gallatin Canyon through the great National Forest Reserve and on into Yellowstone Park.

If you wish to continue to the Coast, on your return from the motor tour, step once more into "The Olympian"—and continue on over the wonderful electrified railroad that leads to Mount Rainier National Park, Seattle, Tacoma, the Olympic Peninsula, the Pacific Ocean and Alaska!

Ask us for details and information about special fares and accommodations.

BACKERS DEFEND PLAN FOR COLORED CEMETERY

Charges Denied That Project Is Purely Financial and Speculative.

NECESSITY IS POINTED TO

Colored men seeking incorporation of the Potomac Memorial Rest association, which has a 32-acre tract near the District line and Glenboro road southeast, were emphatic last night in denial of "purely financial and speculative purposes" in aiming to obtain permission to open the colored cemetery.

Thomas L. Jones, assistant district attorney, at a meeting held at 1901 Vermont avenue, produced statistical data to show that for a colored population of 126,000, cemeteries here were inadequate. One cemetery, within the city limits, he stated, had been taxed more than seven times its capacity.

General complaint of inaccessibility with reference to other cemeteries was voiced, because automobiles are not able to climb the steep hillsides more than six months of the year. The cemetery's establishment has been opposed by the newly established board of public welfare through M. M. Doyle and E. J. Newcomb.

Others opposed to its establishment, it is understood, are Dr. J. B. Payne and F. G. Cannon, of the Washington, Highland, association; William McK. Clayton, of the Federation of Civic associations; Dr. E. E. Richardson and W. C. Sullivan, of the Congress Heights association, principally on the ground that the land sought to use as a cemetery is better suited to home development.

mishap to an airplane caused them to make the trip to Paris by automobile, losing several hours from their schedule. They overcame this loss by night flights to Berlin and Moscow that had not been planned.

As they hastened across Russia, Evans and Wells were warmly welcomed by Russian aviators and journalists. They crossed Siberia by rail and air, reaching Harbin, Manchuria, June 30. They had arranged for two airplanes to meet them, but only one awaited them. To enable one of them to keep to schedule, Evans made the next leg by airplane, while Wells journeyed to Mukden by rail. They met again at Mukden July 1.

From Mukden to Japan.

A special train took them from Mukden to Fusan, Korea. Then to Japan they went by boat, crossed Japan by train and at Yokohama embarked on the Empress of Asia for Victoria, British Columbia. They landed at Victoria July 12 and immediately began a flight across the continent.

The first man to greet the world travelers as their planes dropped to earth was Moran, who congratulated them on breaking his record. The world record seemed fresh as they alighted from their planes and they spared enough time to pose for newspaper photographers before continuing their journey to their starting point at the Pulitzer building. In a fast car flanked by motorcycle police they whirled out of the field on their last short lap of their journey.

William de Armon, grandson of Mrs. Brooks.

Mrs. Erdelin, wife of chef.

More than a score of injured were reported at the home of the superintendent of the hotel grounds.

First warning of the fire was given by Carl Stryker, night watchman, at the inn. Hudson France, a bellboy, and son of the manager, Edward France, telephoned the alarm to the Tannersville fire department two hours away, but hardly had left the instrument when the blazing roof and walls made escape for the guests impossible.

Stryker was believed to have re-entered the hotel to rescue guests, and to have been in the fire. Tonight he was listed among the missing.

9 Are Victims of Flames In the Northwest Forests

Seattle, Wash., July 14 (By A. P.).—With nine deaths entered against it, the reign of fire, heat and lightning to the Pacific Northwest continued tonight. Two women and two children were burned to death yesterday when a forest fire trapped a motorcar between Hanft, Alta, and Windermere, B. C. Five other deaths have been reported in the last five days.

CONFERENCE SEEKS MEANS OF REDUCING WORKER ACCIDENTS

23,000 Estimated Killed and 2,500,000 Injured in U. S. Yearly.

INFORMATION BUREAU IS URGED BY DAVIS

Frank Morrison Says Remedy Rests With Government and Employes.

How to reduce the tremendous toll of fatalities among workers in America is the problem tackled yesterday when the Industrial Accident conference convened in the Mayflower hotel at the call of Secretary of Labor Davis. The conference will continue through tomorrow.

In calling the conference, Secretary Davis asserted that "a conservative estimate indicates that the fatal industrial accidents in this country probably exceed 23,000 a year, and that nonfatal injuries total 2,500,000 a year."

Secretary Davis said that his experts had advised him that "fully 85 per cent of these accidents are preventable."

Davis Urges New Bureau.

A letter from President Coolidge, in which he expressed hope that the conference would be successful in bringing about a reduction in the number of accidents, was read by Secretary of Labor Davis. He expressed gratification at the large number of States that were represented, as well as the large number of associations and manufacturers.

Secretary Davis suggested that there be created in the Department of Labor a bureau equipped to gather statistics on accidents and to disseminate information as to how to prevent accidents.

Louis Reznick, of the American Museum of Safety, endorsed Secretary Davis' suggestion, declaring that an educational program is needed "to reduce the wastage of life and limb that disfigures American industry." He pointed out that more lives have been lost in celebration of American independence on July 4 than were lost in the battles which won that independence. But safety campaigns, he said, had greatly reduced the July 4 death toll. Whereas 100 persons were killed July 4, 1925, he said, the toll last July was 59.

Prevention Called Possible.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, who spoke at the afternoon conference yesterday, said that the major responsibility for the 85 per cent of accidents that could be prevented rests with employers and the State governments. An illustration of this, he said, is the way the coal mining industry has ignored recommendations of the bureau of mines for preventing explosions.

Industrial accidents primarily concern the workers, Mr. Morrison said. The worker suffers to a degree, he declared, where the workers' compensation laws do not compensate. His family also suffers, he averred, being reduced to a lower standard of living and losing its aspirations and rights along educational lines because of the father's reduced earning capacity.

Ethelbert Stewart, United States commissioner of labor statistics, presided at the morning session, and James A. Hamilton, industrial commissioner of New York, at the afternoon session.

Col. John Price Jackson, of the New York Edison Co., told the conference that the victims of industrial accidents—the widows, orphans and maimed—would make a couple of cities the size of Baltimore. Most accidents, he said, were caused by lack of sufficient care on the part of the workers themselves. He stressed the importance of compiling statistics showing the number of accidents. Without such statistics, he said, it is impossible to know whether conditions are improving or getting worse.

Bicycle, Motorcycle Production Decreases

With the passing of the horse as a means of transportation, bicycles and motorcycles also appear to be decreasing in the United States, according to a statement issued yesterday by the Department of Commerce. A census of manufactures shows that production of motorcycles in 1925 decreased 6.1 per cent in number and 11.5 per cent in value as compared with 1923, while corresponding decreases of 40.1 and 36.4 per cent marked bicycle manufacture.

In Europe the horse and the bicycle still drag out a lingering life as modes of conveyance in many large cities, it was pointed out. Manufacturers here, however, are optimistic and look forward to an upward trend in popularity not only of the bicycle but the motorcycle as well.

The District public utilities commission will move from 335-343 District building today to rooms on the first floor, to make room for the offices of the new board of public welfare.

The board of children's guardians has hitherto occupied the suite. The board has been merged with the board of public welfare. Earl V. Fisher, executive secretary of the commission, will occupy room 113. The commission's chief clerk, E. J. Milligan, will occupy room 104.

Social Workers Need Clothes for Children

Perhaps no other demand upon the resources of the Salvation Army social service department equals the one for children's clothing, officials of the organization pointed out yesterday. Many poor parents in Washington depend upon the army stores to provide their kiddies with clothing. With the coming of school days these demands will more than double, officials said.

Brigadier Myles Pickering, in charge of this department, is calling upon Washington women to help with donations of discarded clothing. All contributions will be promptly called for upon receipt of a telephone call to Main 8023.

SNAG MET IN PARK POLICE UNIFORMS

McCarl Will Not Let the U. S. Make Them, Though Money Be Saved.

Proposal that the government manufacture uniforms for the United States park policemen under his supervision, made by Maj. U. S. Grant 3d, director of public buildings and public parks, was disproved yesterday by Comptroller General McCarl. Maj. Grant suggested money could be saved by such a procedure.

Supplies for the Columbia Institution for the Deaf must be bought from contractors listed by the government general supply committee and not in the open market regardless of the fact that money may be saved at times by open market purchases. Mr. McCarl declared in another ruling for the benefit of officials of that institution.

Portions of salaries of employees of the bureau of entomology of the Department of Agriculture, withheld under an order by Secretary Jardine, must be paid Mr. McCarl ruled. The question involved payment of salary and allowances for time spent by the employees in studying their work in various institutions.

POLICEMAN FREED OF SHIMMYING CAR

Eldridge Gets Wrong Number
When Pastor Complains Over Telephone.

The Rev. A. X. Hawksworth, 1816 N street northwest, yesterday complained by telephone to Director of Traffic M. O. Eldridge, giving the license number of what he described as a "shimmying roadster" that nearly knocked him down at Eighteenth and K streets, its occupants then directing at him a "sarcastic snicker." He asked Eldridge to prosecute.

Director Eldridge looked up the number as he understood it over the telephone and found it to relate to the car of Police Sgt. Joseph D. Harrington, whom he "called in on the carpet." The latter denied the charge and called on the sergeant, who said he told the director of traffic there was a D in front of the license number of the offending motor car, indicating it was a dealer's vehicle.

The traffic director acknowledged the "clerical error," and Sgt. Harrington was exonerated of the charges of "snickering" and "shimmying" his car.

Rain failed to dampen the merriment of 1,700 employees of the Washington Gas Light Co. who gathered yesterday at Chesapeake Beach for their thirty-eighth annual outing, with 300 orphans from various local homes as their guests.

Immediately on arrival of the main body at noon a heavy down-pour drove the crowd to shelter. Luncheon and other events that followed, except that luncheon had not quite begun. The employees carried their lunches with them.

The rain put the ground in a bad condition for the events that followed. Nevertheless the events were held successfully. Two races, a 50-yard dash for boys and for girls, were held among the orphans.
